MILNE, CRUELLY TORTURED, RELEASED

YOUTH, 23, FOUND TAPED, GAGGED IN DITCH, IS REPORTED SERIOUS; FEDERAL MEN HUNT BRUTAL GANG

Reports $25,000 Paid As Ransom Unconfirmed Believe Boy Thrown from Moving Car; Condition of Scion Delays Questioning

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 19—(INS)—While 23-year-old Caleb Milne, 4th, scion of a wealthy Philadelphia family, lay moaning and delirious in Doylestown hospital today a veritable army of G-men and Pennsylvania state police began a painstaking hunt for his kidnapers.

Bound and gagged, his eyes and mouth taped shut, young Milne was found lying in a ditch on the York road, seven miles from here, late last night.

Apparently he had been thrown from a swift-moving automobile.

$25,000 Reported Paid

There were reports the youth's millionaire grandfather, Caleb Milne, 2d, had paid $25,000 for his release.

This could not be verified, however, as G-men and state police flatly refused to discuss the case until they had had a chance to question the youth.

BALLOT ON BEER SALE IS DELAYED

'Dads' Uncertain Concerning Provision of Plan

Take a handful of councilmen, mix them with an ordinance regulating closing hours for beer parlors and the eliminating of screens, and the result is a lengthy discussion, and postponed action.

The city's closing ordinance, establishing the hours from 12 midnight to 5:30 a. m. and ordering the removal of screens from windows and doors so police have a clear view through the building, went back to the committee again Wednesday night for alterations.

The ordinance, amended after the last session, had no effect on 3.2 beer in the closing regulations. Councilmen W. M. Reid, who has backed the ordinance, contended it should include all beer, and should be amended.

Councilman Daniel Ryan then asked if the screen clause referred to booths inside the establishments. If it did, he explained he was not in favor of the ordinance. Solicitor Carl C. Leist stated the ordinance referred only to screens at windows preventing a view of the interior. The general discussion that followed prevented a vote.

At a previous session an ordinance brought from Lancaster regulating closing hours was defeated.

FIRE CHIEF IS GRANTED MONTH'S ABSENCE LEAVE

Fire Chief Talmer Wise was granted a month's leave of absence without pay by councilmen Wednesday to make a trip to Florida. Mr. Wise and his family will leave next Monday. They will make the trip in a bus reconstructed into a house car.

During the chief's absence, Tom Strawser, oldest man in the department, will be acting chief.

MRS. GORDON, 78, IS HEART VICTIM

Week's Illness Fatal; Funeral Services Friday

Mrs. Julia Schwartz Gordon, 78 widow of Frank C. Gordon, died Wednesday at p. m. in Berger hospital after a week's illness. She suffered a heart attack at her home, 434 E. Franklin-st.

The funeral will be Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the home with Rev. George L. Troutman officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery by Mader & Ebert.

She was a native of Ross-co. born March 28, 1856 to Mr. and Mrs. August Cook. She was first married to William Schwartz who also preceded her in death.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews; three half-sisters, Mrs. Mervin Jennings of Columbus, Mrs. Ann Ritt of this city, Mrs. George C. Gerhard of Jackson-twp., and two half-brothers, Fred Cook of Walnut-twp. and Charles Kramer of Sentinel Butte, N. D.

The body will be taken to the home this afternoon where friends may call anytime after 5 o'clock.

4H CLUB CALVES BRING FINE PRICE ON CITY MARKET

Two 4 H club calves owned by Dorothy and Harold Hoover, Jackson-twp., set the top price at the local livestock sale Wednesday afternoon, selling at $50 and $55. Both steers weighed about 850 pounds.

Cattle receipts totalled 138 head, with medium to good steers and heifers ranging from $7.10 to $9.55. Good to choice hogs ranged from $9.25 to $9.40, approximately 10 cents lower than the previous local sale. Hog receipts were 603 head.

BREHMER ESTATE VALUED AT $21,612 IN INVENTORY

J. J. Brehmer, florist, left an estate valued at $21,612.07, an inventory filed in probate court by E. S. Neuding, Paul Johnson and F. E. Barnhill, appraisers.

Stocks and securities are listed at $1,450; cash $2,012.07 and real estate $150. R. L. Behmer is executor.

$17,000 IN GASOLINE TAX IS RECEIVED IN COUNTY

Receipt of $17,000 in gas tax funds was announced Thursday morning by Forrest Short, county auditor.

The county receives $11,000 and each township $400. The funds are used for road maintenance and repairs.

BYRNS PREDICTS BONUS PASSAGE

House Speaker Declares Issue to Be Voted By Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—(INS)—Passage of a bill for payment of the soldiers' bonus by Feb. 1, 1936, was predicted today by Speaker Joseph Byrns of the house of representatives.

He declined, however, to say whether a bonus bill would pass over a presidential veto.

Byrns said that there is a possibility that congress will reject the Patman inflation method of paying the bonus and choose the Vinson bill backed by the American Legion.

The speaker returned to the capitol today with the congressional group, headed by Vice President Garner, which attended the inauguration of the new Philippine commonwealth.

Both Vice President Garner and Byrns planned early calls on President Roosevelt to discuss legislation to be considered in the session which opens on Jan. 3.

Byrns, surveying possibilities for the session said:

1. The senate may act on the (Continued on Page Six)

STATE TO PROVIDE AID FOR SUFFERS

Senate Approves Relief Program Drafting Emergency Bill to Loan Money to Counties in Desperate Straits

COLUMBUS, Dec. 19—(INS)—A new state relief program to stave off a crisis until the middle of next year at least, was perfected in the state senate today, as members of the legislature reconvened to enact emergency legislation.

Sen. James Metzbaum (R), Cleveland, turned over to senate leaders a draft of an emergency bill that will provide $1,500,000 state loans to counties, on counties, on the basis of their need. His measure, providing for distribution of the money by the emergency board, would provide relief funds through January.

Metzbaum's bill incorporates the suggestions a number of members of the House and Senate. It was to receiving consideration of both houses late today.

The diminutive Cleveland attorney who turns over his salary of $2,000 to charitable organizations, has been charged with responsibility for putting in shape a program that will enable him to take up the direct relief burden dropped by the federal government on Dec. 1.

Metzbaum is putting the finished touches on a second measure

G. O. P. LEADERS OF PICKAWAY-CO TO AID BRICKER

Endorsement is Voted at Meeting in Office of Executive Chairman

RESOLUTION IS DRAFTED

Ruble, Fairfield - Co Judge,
Urged to Run By Three District Groups

Pickaway-co Republicans, today were solidly behind the candidacy of John W. Bricker, attorney general, for the nomination for Governor.

Endorsement of the Mt. Sterling native was voted unanimously at a joint committee meeting Wednesday evening in the office of Tom A. Renick, chairman of the county executive committee. The meeting call was issued last Saturday by John E. Walters, former county commissioner, and chairman of the central committee.

Between 25 and 30 attended the meeting.

Bricker, born only a few miles from the Pickaway-co line in Madison-co, is assured the support of all Republicans in the county as a result of the endorsement. The committees have pledged themselves to deliver a large vote for the attorney general, who, so far, has no important opposition for the nomination.

Judge Ruble Supported

The committeemen have taken no other action so far as endorsements for major offices is concerned except vote support for Judge C. E. Ruble, of the Fairfield-co probate court, if he will enter the campaign for congressman in the 11th district.

Judge Ruble, who is serving his second term as probate judge, also was mayor of Lancaster two terms, and served a similar period as solicitor. He has never been defeated for office and has never carried on an active campaign, according to local party leaders, whose action is significant since committees do not, as a rule, endorse when there is a possibility of opposition.

Ross and Hocking-co Republicans have also voted endorsements for the Fairfield-co man.

Considered Home Boy

In commenting on the Bricker endorsement, one party leader said today:

"It isn't usual that a county committee climbs on the band wagon so early but when a man so outstanding as John Bricker seeks an office we believe it is our duty to give him our support in every possible way. We consider John almost a Pickaway-co boy."

The resolution endorsing the candidate follows:

Whereas, The Pickaway County Republican Executive and Central Committees realize that the Honorable John W. Bricker, Attorney General of Ohio, in the administration of that difficult office, has rendered unto the people of the State of Ohio a sane and efficient service that can be looked upon with justifiable pride and,

Whereas, large numbers of the citizens of this great State, in addition to members of the Republican party, know that it is imperative that a man of great character, mental stability,

SCIOTO-CO BACKS DAVEY

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1—(INS)—Democratic state headquarters announced today that 71 members of the executive and central committees of Scioto-co have signed a resolution endorsing Governor Davey for a second term, bringing total county committee endorsements to ten.

Santa Claus' Mail Heavier Than Ever!

But It's of Indiana Village We Speak — A Village With a Postoffice Staff Larger Than the Population of the Town at This season of the Year

Postmaster Oscar Philipps of Santa Claus, Ind.

Main street, Santa Claus, Ind., with postoffice in foreground.

SANTA CLAUS, Ind.—Christmas mail dispatched from this southern Indiana village will be heavier than usual this year, the postoffice department has notified Postmaster Oscar Philipps. In fact, the postoffice staff at the peak may equal the village's population of less than 40!

Philipps will be serving his apprenticeship as Christmas postmaster of Santa Claus.

Philipps became postmaster last May following the death of James F. Martin, who had held the office for 28 years and who had seen the obscure little village rise to national fame as the "headquarters of Santa Claus."

The Christmas season mail this year will far exceed the annual half-million pieces of past years. Postmaster Philipps found the rush beginning early this year.

A task for small office Late in November a telephone call from a Chicago wholesale company notified him that it was shipping 350,000 circulars to his postoffice for remailing for holiday trade. The first shipment contained 22,000 pieces.

"That mail alone is almost a half million pieces," Postmaster Philipps said. "So I know that it will be a tremendous job taking care of the business this season."

Each year since the town of Santa Claus became nationally known as a Christmas mailing center, there has been a steady increase in the amount of business. Persons from all over the United States, and even from foreign countries, send their Christmas greeting cards and gift parcels to be mailed from this village so that they may carry the official "Santa Claus" postmark. Mail last season went to every corner of the globe and some came in for re-mailing from Egypt and the Philippines.

Town Attracts Tourists

Although the town attracts more and more tourists annually as its fame spreads, there is little mail business except during the holiday season. Then it takes the combined efforts of the postmaster and a corps of assistants to handle the heavy burden. Even with a stamp canceling machine that has a capacity of 30,000 pieces an hour, the task is heavy.

The village of Santa Claus itself merely is a "wide spot in the road." It lies in the hilly wooded lands of southern Indiana, just five miles from the place, now called Lincoln City, where Abraham Lincoln passed the formative years of his life—between the ages of seven and 21—and where Nancy Hanks Lincoln rests on a knoll in the center of a beautiful state park named for her.

No Railroad The town itself has no railroad. Mail has to be transported by truck the five miles to Lincoln City.

As a philanthropic gesture Carl A. Barrett, a Chicagoan, is developing a park in the village to be known as Santa Claus park, and a 24-foot granite statue of the Christmas saint will be unveiled in the park at Christmas time. The park in addition to its statue will have a "wishing well," a reindeer enclosure, a lake, a "Christmas Tree Lane," a doll house and other features intended to gladden the hearts of childhood.

ATTORNEYS FOR BRUNO PREPARE APPEAL PAPERS

Lawyers to Visit Hauptmann;
New Attack Opened on Maid

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—(INS)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann and his lawyers today will start composing the appeal to the Court of Pardons that, in all probability, will mean life or death for the Bronx carpenter, awaiting execution for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

The one-time machine gunner's attorneys will visit him in his Trenton death cell and piece by piece they'll go over the points upon which the appeal will be based.

In the meantime reports that the defense was busy gathering new evidence were heard on all sides.

C. Lloyd Fisher, Hauptmann's chief of defense, was reported to have obtained an affidavit from La Rue, 51, a traveling salesman of Teaneck, N. J., re-involving Violet Sharpe, maid in the Morrow home, who died by her own hand.

Saw Maid in Car

La Rue, it is said, contends that he saw the maid in a car with a man between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m., on March 1, 1932, several hours before the kidnapping.

He said he came upon the car four times on Route 27, near Princeton, N. J., and that the car was packed with blankets and a long object, which might have been a ladder.

The Evening Journal says it learned from a high New Jersey political figure that secret evidence supposedly packed with dynamite and "suppressed by the state" at Hauptmann's trial will be barred by the court of pardons on the express orders of Governor Hoffman.

The newspaper declares the governor places considerable credence in this new evidence and quotes the unnamed political figure as follows:

"He (Governor Hoffman) is determined that every bit of truth, either for or against Hauptmann, must be told. It is for this reason that he has welcomed to his office all those who bring tangible evidence.

"He does not know whether this evidence already in his possession and other facts which may come along will prove fruitful. But he will certainly lay his information before the court of pardons and insist that the prosecution produce witnesses they avoided calling at the trial."

Inquiry Welcome

To this, officials of the prosecution replied calmly that any investigation of their methods of presenting evidence would be welcomed.

They pointed out that the case had been successfully prosecuted and insisted that all necessary witnesses had testified.

Governor Hoffman said the court probably would not meet until after Christmas.

Yesterday he expressed a desire to hear Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon's story of the ransom negotiations and said there would be no official objection to Condon taking a lie detector test, to which he has been challenged by Hauptmann.

CITY MAY DELAY COURT-ST WORK

Council Favors Starting Sewer Until Warmer Weather

As soon as the Court-st repaving is finished across the Mill-st intersection further work will be postponed until spring if the plan meets with the approval of WPA engineers, councilmen decided Wednesday night.

Recent bad weather has caused a number of delays on the repaving work and councilmen believe it is foolish to continue the work with the most severe weather just ahead. They were informed the winter weather has no effect on the sewer installation.

W. M. Justus, service director, reported about 130 feet of paving would be required to complete the street across the intersection. Some new brick will be needed. If the plan meets the approval of WPA officials the street will be finished as soon as possible, opened to traffic, and the workmen will be transferred to sewer projects. Approximately 100 men have been employed on the Court-st job.

JUSTUS GIVES BUILDS IN LIGHTS CLEAN BILL

The city street lights are delivering all the candlepower required of them, councilmen were informed. They recently directed W. M. Justus, service director, to meet with light officials and have some of the lights tested and the globes cleaned. Mr. Justus reported the light company manager said the globes were recently cleaned and all of the lights were satisfactory.

Labors of Two Ashville Men Bring Kiddies Joy

Basement of Schlegel Home Filled With Toys to Be Distributed to Deserving By Boy Scouts

By FRANKLIN KIBLER

Scores of little Ashville faces that might be streaked with tears on Christmas, because Santa couldn't negotiate his chimney act, will be transformed into smiles through two well-known residents using their hobby to give old St. Nick a boost.

In a basement room under the funeral home of E. F. Schlegel is the heap of smiles—over 100 fine wooden toys, skillfully and sturdily constructed and painted to perfection.

On Christmas eve the Ashville Boy Scouts, who have been conducting a toy rebuilding campaign, will distribute the presents to needy kiddies.

Built By Two Men

During the last few weeks the wooden toys have been constructed by Mr. Schlegel and Bruce L. Davidson, retired architect.

Mr. Schlegel owns one of the finest home woodworking shops in the county under his funeral home on Main-st. Mr. Davidson lives only a few doors away and together they spend their spare time fashioning beautiful articles in wood.

Last year they made about five dozen wooden toys for the Christmas distribution and later learned a few kiddies had been slighted. This year they decided to start work a little sooner and make enough to go around.

The men manufactured three different toys this year, ducks, wagons and cradles. Their stock includes 36 cradles, 36 ducks and 30 wagons. The ducks are those that waddle down an incline.

In addition to their work on the toys they have made a number of attractive Christmas gifts for their personal use.

Both men are members of the Home Craft club of Columbus, an organization of business and professional men who make wood-working their hobby. The club meets monthly at Ohio State university and skilled craftsmen are usually the speakers. The members also exchange "new wrinkles" of their hobby.

Ashville citizens may be proud of the part these two men have played in placing the word "Happy" in front of Christmas for the needy children.

ARMY'S PLANES UNFIT, CONGRESS INFORMED TODAY

Gen. Craig Warns Third of Airplanes Not Able to Strenuous Duty

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—(INS)—Secret testimony that one-third of the army's airplanes are unfit for war service today spurred backers of a huge air defense in an impending battle in congress.

The information was given a house appropriations subcommittee by Gen. Malin, chief of staff of the army.

The army, Gen. Craig's testimony disclosed, has achieved but 50 percent of the original five-year air program of defense. Unless congress provides funds the air service may slip even further. The army estimates that 891 of 1,338 airplanes in all, them are fit for battle in modern warfare. Some congressional students believe that the number is not more than 500.

A battle for a new aviation program, calling for purchase of 800 planes a year for three years at a cost of $240,000,000, was in progress before the house subcommittee.

Chairman John J. McSwain (D) of South Carolina of the house military affairs committee went before the subcommittee today urging that congress back the war department's expansion plan.

Eddy to Sing Christmas Songs Next Monday

Noted Baritone to Present "Silent Night"; Mario Chamlee to Have Part in Bernie's 30 Minutes Tuesday

When Nelson Eddy stands before a microphone two nights before Christmas to sing "Silent Night," it will mark a dramatic moment in this brilliant young baritone's career.

He will be repeating a scene of his early youth when, as a choir boy he chanted that same hymn for the congregation of an obscure New England church.

Eddy, broadcasting from Hollywood, where he is making a new picture, will have his mother in the audience. She, too, may be visualizing bygone days when, her young son wrote articles for a newspaper and she worked in a university in a barely successful attempt to make both ends meet.

The program Monday evening over the NBS-WEAF network at 8:30 E. S. T. also will include "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Knapp; "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" by Wagner; and "Il Balen" from "Il Trovatore" by Verdi, all to be sung by Eddy.

Miss Margaret Speaks, young American soprano, will sing a group of carols accompanied by the Choral symphony and William Daly's Symphonic String orchestra. Miss Speaks and Mr. Eddy also will blend their voices in "Didn't You Believe," from "Good Morning Dearie," Jerome's Kern's popular Operetta.

Mario Chamlee, outstanding concert artist and one of America's greatest tenors, will be heard singing Italian Christmas carols during his guest appearance with Ben Bernie and All the Lads on Tuesday, Dec. 24, at 9.

Chamlee has for many seasons sung with the Metropolitan Opera Company in addition to engagements with the San Francisco and Ravinia Park Opera companies. He is a great favorite with concert and opera audiences. His recital tours from coast to coast have always attracted a capacity attendance. More recently Chamlee has turned to radio, and in his brief career has made several guest appearances on many of the major programs. He is also well known as "Tony" on the Tony and Gus Program.

HOLLYWOOD—Ernestine Schumann-Heink, 74 year-old prima donna of operatic fame, will sing "Stille Nacht" on the Chateau hour, Saturday, Dec. 21, over a nationwide NBC-WEAF network at 9:30 p. m. E. S. T., when she joins Berry at the microphone. Known as "Mother" Schumann-Heink to millions, she said "I hope that my favorite song will help bring a

New Social Security Act

Explanation of Act Effective January 1
No. 6—WILL THERE BE SECURITY?

By DALE COX.

HOWEVER DESIRABLE social security, there is no question but that it comes only at a price. The American worker as yet knows nothing of the price. Whether he retains the plan adopted for him this year, depends in large extent we would guess, upon the price he is called upon to pay for it.

Statisticians for the steel industry have figured out that adoption of the Social Security act, after a few years, will cost the steel industry's employers $11 a year for each employee, which will add approximately 35 cents a ton, to the cost of producing steel. Other industries can break down their additional costs similarly to learn how much the act will cost them in terms of the product they sell.

Huge Total Needed

Application of the system of payroll taxes provided for in the Social Security act to the employers of the country for the years 1922 to 1933 would have produced about $10,000,000 in enough unemployment in the prosperous period prior to 1930 to have reduced the fund from $10,000,000 to about $2,000,000,000. Starting the long depression of the 1930's, with only $2,000,000,000 in reserve, therefore, the committee admits that this fund would have provided unemployment compensation for only a few months during the depression.

Then the fund would have been depleted and would have had to borrow heavily from the treasury, as the British unemployment insurance fund often has done, or the compensation payments under the act would have stopped and direct governmental relief would have begun.

However desirable social security, there is no question that it comes only at a price

Offers Barest Security

Looking at the new act, it would seem that too much must not be taken for granted about its beneficent provisions. At the very most, it offers nothing more than the barest security for the individual under the best possible circumstances. For millions of people now working it offers no security worthy of the name. For other millions, in the main the younger people, it holds something of real promise provided it is found workable and administratively feasible.

TALL CAPITAL COLLEGE TEAM DEFEATS TIGER 11

Circleville high school's varsity went up against a tall, fast Capital university freshman team Wednesday evening in a practice game and lost 20 to 48. Capital used 10 men, eight of whom were over six feet tall.

The half ended 28-11 in favor of Capital.

A great percentage of the college team's shots were scored on long pags over the zone defense used by Coach Jack Landrum.

The local team's points were scored: Styers, 8; Andrews, 3; Melson, 5; Friley, 1; Henry, 1; Jackson, 2; Fickardt, 0.

Jackson, playing a guard, looked good and rates a chance at a defensive post in the Chillicothe game.

SCIOTO BOYS, WASHINGTON GIRLS WIN IN COUNTY LOOP

Scioto-twp boys won from Washington-twp's varsity but the latter school's girls knocked off the Commercial Point lasses to even the score Wednesday evening. The games were played in Commercial Point.

The scores: boys, 28-16; girls, 17-15.

EX-HUBBY HELD IN STECK DEATH

Thomas L. Matkins, Former Ziegfeld Star, Dies in Plunge

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19—(INS)—Mystery today still shrouded, the death of Olga Steck, 42, red-haired, former Ziegfeld-prima donna, killed in a twelve-story plunge from a window of a downtown hotel.

Thomas L. Matkins, Los Angeles bond salesman and former husband of the star, was held in the city prison for further questioning by police, who declared they were not satisfied with his story of the circumstances leading to the death plunge.

Watkins surrendered voluntarily after police had sought him for nine hours. He disappeared from the hotel room shortly after the girl dropped to her death.

He told officers he was packing a suitcase in the room when he "heard a swish and turned around" and his ex-wife was gone. He thought she had simply left the room, he said, and he went to visit a friend.

Inspector Allan McGinn of the homicide squad pointed out that other guests in the hotel were by the crash of the girl's fall.

The tragedy climaxed a party in Watkins' room, attended by Miss Steck, Dixie Marsh, fellow-entertainers with at a night club, and Lyle Payton, city engineer of Stockton, Cal. Payton and the Marsh girl left the party an hour or more before Miss Steck's death, police said.

They had gone to the room from the night club, earlier in the evening, Miss Steck had engaged in an argument on the street in front of the club with her present husband, Everett E. Saxe, liquor dealer, in which Saxe said she truck him on the head with a slipper.

SOCIETY EFFORT IN VAIN

GENFORD—Efforts of the Perryco Historical Society to preserve the old Indian Fort here for a state park have been in vain.

Christmas Parties Gay Affairs of Wednesday

Several Clubs Enjoy Annual Holiday Luncheons

Christmas parties of various clubs and organizations have an important part in the calendar the week preceding the holidays. These parties, always gay affairs, were predominant among the social functions in the city Wednesday.

Members of the Walnut Needle club enjoyed its annual Christmas luncheon at the Wardell party home Wednesday.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock at an attractively appointed table to Mrs. Charles Barnhart, Mrs. Oscar Heffner, Mrs. K. D. Groce, Mrs. Gail Hanover, Mrs. Orren Updyke, Mrs. Cecil Noecker, Mrs. W. C. Nothstine, and Mrs. Turney Glick.

Exchange of gifts followed the pleasure of the luncheon hour.

The club will meet in January with Mrs. Nothstine, Walnut-twp.

Mrs. James Butts, Jackson-twp, was hostess at a lovely Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at her home, guests being members of her three table bridge club.

A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock at prettily appointed tables where a red and green color scheme was carried out.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Orle Rader, Miss Adella Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer, Mrs. Austin Rader, Mrs. Franklin Price, Mrs. Marvin Rhoades, Mrs. Wayne Hoover, Mrs. George Shook, Mrs. Ross Hamilton, Mrs. Glenn Hamilton, Mrs. Clarence Myers, and Mrs. Butts.

The group enjoyed the exchange of gifts following the luncheon hour and a pleasant afternoon was spent in bridge with high score favors going to Mrs. Rhoades and Mrs. Orle Rader.

Miss Adella Hoffman, E. Mound-st, invited the club to meet at her home in two weeks.

The home of Mrs. Charles Imler, E. Main-st, was the scene of the annual Christmas party of the Art sewing club Wednesday.

Christmas decorations were used in the dining room and red candles lighted the table for the luncheon served at 1 o'clock. Covers were laid for twelve.

Cards and sewing were enjoyed during the afternoon hours and gifts were exchanged among the members. Miss Zelma Hoffman and Mrs. Willis Liston were additional guests in the afternoon.

Club member enjoying the affair were Mrs. W. E. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Earl Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Shride, Mrs. Charles Stofor, Mrs. George Marion, Mrs. Wade Cook, Miss Laura Mantle, Mrs. Roy Groce, Mrs. Fred Newhouse, Mrs. Harry Dreisbach, Mrs. Chester Valentine, and Mrs. Imler.

The club was invited to the home of Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Elm-ave, for its January meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, N. Court-st, arranged a delightful Christmas party for members of the sophomore class of Jackson-twp high school Wednesday evening at their home.

Mr. Terhune is sponsor of the class. Supper was served at 7.30 o'clock covers being laid for fifteen guests.

Games were the entertainment of the merry evening and a grab bag was enjoyed by the group.

Included in the lovely party were Carrie Little, Margaret Keller, Garnet Speakman, Bonnie Bal-lou, Betty Riffin, Helen Waltes, Mary Winks, Mildred Hoover, Helen Kern, Paul Thompson, Robert Alexander, Roger Wolf, Scott Cardiff, Shirley Hulse, and James Seimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Link Mader, N. Court-st, were hosts at a charming dinner-bridge Wednesday evening when they entertained the members of their club and a few additional guests at the Pickaway Country club.

The club porch was attractive in holiday attire and dinner was served at 7 o'clock at prettily decorated tables. Covers were laid for thirty-two.

Auction bridge was enjoyed after the dinner hour and favors for high scores were awarded Mrs. B. T. Hedges and R. R. Bales.

RED CROSS IN ACTION

LONDON.—Several Red Cross first aid stations are to be established in Madison-co in the near future, according to F. A. Sheets, county chairman. This section was selected for stations because of the great number of auto accidents on the new work of federal and state highways, he said.

Stations are to be set up at the intersection of Routes 40 and 42 at the Paul Fettrow Grill, one mile east of Lafayette, and the intersection of Routes 40 and 56 in Summerford, four miles north of London.

Other stations are being considering for the Three C's highway at Mt. Sterling, West Jefferson, Plain City and the intersection of Routes 42 and 29, seven miles north of London near Gillivan.

MECHANICSBURG—A petition is being circulated in the territory between Mechanicsburg and Hilliard in Franklin-co to make the "back road" from Mechanicsburg through Resaca and into Hilliard, a main highway to Columbus.

MAKE PIKE MAIN ROAD

The petition requests the state to take over the Finley-Guy road, the Wilson-Winget and the Price-Hilliard roads, which it is claimed, would relieve much of the heavy traffic now carried by the National highway, Route 40, and State Route 29, which runs from Urbana to West Jefferson where it joins Route 40.

The proposed road would shorten by several miles the distance now covered between Mechanicsburg and Columbus, with the entrance of the new state road in north Columbus.

CITY TREASURY TO SHOW $2,659 BALANCE END OF YEAR

GORDON QUOTES FUND BALANCES; MORE COMING IN

Item of $1,624.11 for Burials and Medical Expenses Remains Before 'Dads'

Circleville will not enter the new year with a deficit on the books, the situation faced by many Ohio cities.

In the financial statement read before councilmen by Ben Gordon, the city will have a balance on Jan. 1 of $2,659.25 and during the first month of the year will receive about $2,300 from the October classified tax.

The estimated receipts for December will total about $761.96, the statement shows, and the balance in the general fund as of Dec. 18 is $6,670.54. The estimated expenditures for the balance of December will total about $4,773.25. These expenditures include salaries $1,529.53; boiler for the Memorial hall, $1,908.19; gas bill, $28.64; small bills of the various departments, $200; Court-st project, $400; relief bills, $506.89, and engineer, $200.

The legislation for the next meeting will include the relief bills, councilmen decided, but they delayed the payment of a $1,624.11 bill for burials and medical expenses. They plan to meet this bill as soon as funds permit.

The balance in other funds Dec. 18 follows: library, $1,163.46; auto, street repair, $1,061.83; gas tax, $971.22, and hospital, $1,185.79.

SMALL CROWD PRAISES HIGH SCHOOL'S PLAY

All who saw "The Tinker," high school Christmas play directed by Roy Bowen, Wednesday, where highly pleased with the performance of the youthful thespians.

The crowd, because of so many conflicting activities, was small but it loudly applauded the play.

Hilaire Haacker in the title role was very good as were students in the other lead parts, including George Rader, Faye Elliott, and Jack Brown.

KINGSTON

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Snyder were host and hostess to the Anniversary Club on Saturday evening at their beautiful home on Oak-st. A delicious dinner was enjoyed at 6:30 o'clock. The following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. Dane Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Freshour, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brundige, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis H. Dreisback, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGinnis, Mr. Floyd I. Rittenour, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pyle and daughter, Sylvia Ann of Wilmington, and Mary Elizabeth Snyder were the guests of the club. The Pyle family were the weekend guests at the Snyder home.

Mrs. Henry Jones was called to Lancaster municipal hospital to attend a patient on Saturday evening. She was accompanied to Lancaster by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hettinger.

Electricity was installed in the L. A. Pyle property on N. Main-st this week. Kenneth Meadows did the installing.

We omitted in our report of the O. E. S. installation that the retiring matron, Mrs. Louise Morris, gave Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, the retiring secretary, a beautiful gift and Mrs. Morris was the recipient of beautiful twin lamps from her corps of officers.

Among those shopping in Chillicothe on Monday were Mrs. S. C. Lightner, Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shannon, Mrs. A. Dane Ellis, Miss Mildred Holderman, Mrs. J. P. Gardner, Mrs. Clarence Jones, Miss Effie Richter, Mr. and Mrs. David McCorkle, Miss Katherine L. Brundige, Mrs. A. U. bonus before the house votes. Unless the house has changed its attitude, the Townsend old age pension plan will not be passed.

Whether or not the Frazier-Lemke three billion dollar farm mortgage inflation bill is voted upon is questionable, is questionable.

Byrns said that senate leaders are pledged to bring up the bonus question within ten days after the session convenes. A petition to discharge the rules committee and bring the Patman bill before the house can be called up January 13.

YOUTH, 23, FOUND TAPED, GAGGED IN DITCH, IS REPORTED SERIOUS; FEDERAL MEN HUNT BRUTAL GANG

rushing here from both Philadelphia and New York.

The victim vanished from the New York apartment which he shares with a younger brother, Frederic Milne, after receiving a telephone call early Saturday from a "Dr. Green of Gracie Square." "Dr. Green" told the youth his grandfather was ill in Philadelphia and that he was to accompany him there.

Milne left the apartment after leaving a note for Frederic telling about the phone call.

The following day Frederic Milne received a letter, postmarked "Poughkeepsie, N. Y.," advising him his brother was being held for $50,000 ransom.

A subsequent ransom demand was reported made direct to the victim's grandfather in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19—(INS)—The home of Caleb Milne, Jr., grandfather of Caleb Milne, 4th., kidnap victim, who was found bound and gagged near Doylestown last night, resembled an armed camp today.

G-men and Philadelphia police swarmed all over the Milne home in Germantown and refused to allow anyone but members of the family to approach.

Federal men answered all phone calls to the house.

There were persistent reports here that young Milne had been released by his abductors as a result of the payment of $25,000 ransom, but this could not be confirmed.

The news of the finding of the victim came after a night of feverish activity here.

Warren Milne, an uncle, is said to have attempted to keep a rendezvous with the kidnapers.

He was reported to have driven to the Bow Creek section in the southwest part of the city, carrying $25,000 with him, but whether contact was made with the kidnapers there is not known.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19—

(INS)—Given a free hand by the victim's release, the federal bureau of investigation today opened an intensive drive to apprehend the kidnapers of Caleb J. Milne, 4th., socially prominent scion of one of Philadelphia's oldest families.

R. George Harvey, chief of the federal agent's Philadelphia department, began cracking the whip less than an hour after the 22-year-old youth was tossed bound, gagged and semi-conscious from an automobile near Doylestown, 12 miles north of here.

Given reinforcements by the arrival from New York, Washington and Chicago of eight of the department's crack "snatch men," Harvey ordered every G-man in Philadelphia—there are 38 of them—on duty.

Except to admit they are now positive Milne was kidnaped and they have a "lead", the G-men adamantly refused to divulge any information as they worked with feverish activity throughout the night, speeding about the city and burning up the road between here and Doylestown in high-powered cars with sirens wide open.

Reports that Milne's relatives, members of the family of wealthy Caleb J. Milne, Jr., retired textile magnate, had paid $25,000 ransom could not be confirmed.

Y., comes announcement of the completion of the 200-inch reflector which will be used in the world's largest telescope, to be erected in an observatory on Palomar Mountain, California. It will take five years to complete the project. Then the astronomers of the world will have something to talk about.
It is estimated by experts that the giant telescope, twice as large as the one at Mt. Wilson, will make visible cosmic areas 1,200,000,000 light years removed from the earth. The moon will become a next door neighbor, and the possibilities for planetary research are extremely enticing.
Ultimate problems, of course, will be nearer solution. No matter how powerful an instrument may be turned toward the heavens, there will always remain vast regions of the impenetrable and the unknown. However, the physical boundaries of man's knowledge will be considerably extended by this latest triumph of optical engineering, and the forthcoming revelations will, as usual, be anticipated with deep interest by all amateur and professional watchers of the skies.

ETHIOPIA KNIFED
VOLTAIRE, with his penchant for bitter cynicism, asked God to defend him from his friends. He could defend himself from his enemies. Haile Selassie, struggling from the dissecting table at Geneva, might with every justification utter a similar plea.
To bring about peace, the dominant statesmen of the League of Nations have proposed to cut Ethiopia up into pieces and give the greater part of the little nation to Italy. It is estimated that only about a third of the land would be left.
If the plan meets with the approval of the League of Nations, this organization born of a great ideal, should properly pass into well-deserved oblivion.

BRITISH SECRET AGENTS' REPORTS LED DOWNING STREET TO BOW TO MUSSOLINI

WASHINGTON—Detailed and confidential reports regarding the mysterious British backdown, originally accepting the Hoare-Laval peace plan, gradually have trickled back to Washington.
They paint a revealing picture.
Behind Britain's abject surrender to Mussolini and the sudden willingness to give away half of Abyssinia were six important factors.
One was a report made by British secret agents on Mussolini's naval concentrations and the state of mind of the Italian people. Chief purpose of this was to ascertain whether Mussolini was bluffing when he threatened European war in case of an oil embargo.
The British report satisfied Downing Street that he was not bluffing. Submarines were reported already concentrated secretly against English shipping. British agents concluded that the very secrecy of the ship movements belied any idea of bluff. They also reported the Italian people ready for war.

NO FRENCH SUPPORT
Two was an ultimatum given Sir Samuel Hoare by Premier Laval that while he would support Great Britain publicly, France would not and could not mobilize in case of war.
He pointed out first, that French peasants would not answer a mobilization call. Even more important, the Conscript Maritime or French Naval reserves, who would have to be mobilized first, would not answer a call.
The British were not quite sure at first whether Laval was double-crossing them, so checked this through their own agents. They found Laval was telling the truth. This was what Stanley Baldwin meant when he announced in Parliament that his "lips were sealed" regarding certain things.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

How wholly unprepared the states are to take care of unemployment is exemplified in Ohio. Here the legislature and the governor play politics with relief—and the destitute suffer. Last year Governor Martin L. Davey was charging the federal government with domineering and interfering. This year, when the governmental ceases to "domineer" or "interfere", in other words when it ceases to bear Ohio's relief burden and ceases to dictate that the money shall go to the needy without politicians dictating the distribution, the federal government is attacked for giving up the burden.
It probably is the same in many other states.
Relief is a problem beyond the states.
If that be the case, say students of government, then so too are many other of the major acts for the betterment of the people.
For example how can the huge interstate corporations, the bitterly weeping electric companies, be controlled by a state? They are more powerful than any individual state.
How could crop control (in reality, food control), how could protection against floods or soil erosion, how could abolition of child labor or protection of adult labor

MURDER UPSTAIRS
By ADAM BLISS

READ THIS FIRST:
Lieutenant Kirk Larrabee is investigating the murder of Andrew Darian, a middle-aged bachelor who was stabbed to death with a carving knife as he slept in the boarding house of Alice Penny. After questioning Alice, her seven remaining boarders, the maid and cook in detail, Larrabee learns that Darian was generally disliked and that he possessed a small fortune. Alice is amazed when the detective tells her she will inherit $200,000 through Darian's will. While Larrabee and Alice are talking, they surprise Grace, the cook, listening at the door. Alice has to explain a list of anecdotes she has compiled about everyone in the house to Larrabee. They discuss all of the boarders again, including Lucy, Alice's old friend, who has been seeing a psychiatrist. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)
CHAPTER 22
"HOW DID Mrs. Upham happen to go to Doctor Rudemar?" the detective asked.
"A friend recommended him, I believe," I replied. "She's been going to him now for about four months." Why did he keep harping on Lucy and her dreams? I couldn't see how that could solve Andrew Darian's murder. Of course I know that experts, and psychoanalysts say that dreams are only wish fulfillments, but I never imagined before that a policeman would give a second thought to wish fulfillments. I thought to wish fulfillments. They used the third degree to get their information, which shows how ignorant I am of modern methods. Besides, what sort of an interpretation could be made of Lucy's having to cut fields of flowers every night with a heavy pair of shears in her dreams?
"I can't see what difference a few dreams make," I exclaimed impatiently. "You dream, and I dream occasionally, although I'm usually too tired to remember what I dream about."
"Perhaps Mrs. Upham's dreams don't mean anything, Mrs. Penny. But I'm passing up no chances. I'm positive that somebody in this house killed Darian. Somebody who crept into his room some time between midnight and 3, a murderer wearing gloves because there were no fingerprints on your carving knife. A careful murderer who wiped off the door knobs both inside and out on Darian's door. A murderer familiar with the household, else why should your carving knife be taken for the deed? The murderer was someone who went into the dining room to get a handful of nuts, saw the carving knife on the buffet near the nut bowl, thought of the murder, took the knife for the purpose of murder, and later plunged it into Darian's heart. It's a vicious knife, the point sharp, the blade like a razor. You shouldn't have kept it so sharp, Mrs. Penny. If you hadn't, perhaps the murderer wouldn't have taken it, and Darian would have been alive to-night."
"There's no murderer among us, Lieutenant Larrabee," I muttered weakly.
"I'm afraid there is."
"But if it was someone in the house, you must have found something when you searched—for you did search thoroughly, didn't you? Gloves, bloody gloves."
"We searched very thoroughly, Mrs. Penny, and although we found some things, insignificant things, we didn't find anything vital. We found no evidence of bloody gloves, for instance. Indeed, there is no evidence that the murderer's gloves were bloody. The knife wasn't withdrawn, there probably was no great spurt of blood. What dripped on the floor came very probably from the wound in Darian's back, for the knife pinned him to the bed. It went clear through him, from his chest to his back."
I shuddered. "The little things you found?"
"Nothing, Mrs. Penny, to get excited about. They most likely aren't concerned in the murder at all, but we have to look into them all the same. Now, if you could put me up for the night—a couch some place. I won't have much time to sleep, but

TIGERS HOPEFUL OF TAKING GAME AT CHILlicothe

Confidence Prevails Despite Loss of Jenkins; Strausbaugh "Devil" Captain

Crippled by absence of John Jenkins but confident they will make a good showing, the Red and Black cagers—unbeaten in four encounters played so far this year—travel to Chillicothe tomorrow evening to take on a high class Red Devil team.

Jenkins is ill at his home and will not play against the Ross countians. Who will take his place is not certain.

Chillicothe, as usual, expects a victory. Coach Earl Young always has a smart cage team but it may be to the advantage of the locals that the Red Devils are playing their first game of the season. Despite this fact, they have had a lot of time for practice and some of the scrimmages have been game-like.

Strausbaugh Captain

Jim Strausbaugh, great football player, has been elected captain of the Young-men. It is behind this boy that Chillicothe ran up a splendid season's football record. Strausbaugh, so far as scribes have been able to ascertain, is the high point man in Ohio. He plays a guard in basketball and is a tough one.

Big Jacques Cox at center will provide a problem, but local fans believe Coach Landrum's defense will hold the big fellow. The question of the tip-off is something else out Dick Melson will probably get his share of the tosses; if he doesn't his teammates will.

In every game played this year, while the Red and Black regulars were in the game, the opposing team has been afforded very few sucker shots.

Mackey is Official

Fritz Mackey, freshman coach at Ohio State university, will referee the game which will be preceded by a preliminary between the reserve teams of the two schools.

Chillicothe resembles the local quintet a lot in that every member of the first squad is a senior, except Cox. Henry is the only junior on Landrum's varsity.

The varsity game begins at 8:15 p. m. Probably lineups:

Circleville	Chillicothe
Andrews	F. Higley
Styers	J. Jones
Melson	C. Cox
Priley	G. Strausbaugh
Henry	G. Trainer

About THIS and THAT In Many Sports

Mackey Reger's Pal

Fritz Mackey, who referees the high school-Chillicothe game Friday evening, is one of Principal Elmer Reger's closest friends—Mackey was on the coaching staff at Ohio Wesleyan when Reger was there—The local school man played three years of baseball under Mackey as a catcher and his three years of football were benefitted by Mackey's tutelage * * *

Bearded Men to Draw

The Athletic club cage team should be supported by a large crowd in its initial contest of the season Christmas night when the House of David crew comes here—The CAC team promises to have considerable strength and its members have been drilling for the opener—Any team that carries a bunch of bearded men is bound to attract a crowd, but one that owns a man standing 8 feet 1 inch into the ozone ought to burst the sides out of any building in which it plays—There will undoubtedly be a good crowd at the game * * *

Jackson Girl Hurt

Louise Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fischer, Jackson-twp, and a niece of Frank Fischer, local school superintendent, suffered a broken bone in her right leg this week while practicing basketball—Dr. Shane set the injury * * *

Cage Contest Hot

The race for honors, and The Herald cups, in the county league is becoming hotter—Ashville, Muhlenberg and New Holland boys are leading in their contest, with neither tasting defeat—it'll be a battle royal when the Kauber—or Saunders-men get together—Muhlenberg has a pretty good team, too, but is not expected to have enough man power to combat either of the others—In the girls contest New Holland and Darby-twp are showing the way with Ashville doing not so well—A new coach is in the harness at Ashville but it isn't her fault the team isn't winning; all girls on the team are inexperienced, the Roeses, Nance, Graham, Canter and others graduating last year * * *

WES FESLER AFTER JOB AS LAFAYETTE MENTOR

EASTON, Pa., Dec. 19—Wesley Fesler, former Ohio State football, basketball, and baseball star, is being considered for the head coaching job at Lafayette college. He is now an assistant in football and head cage coach at Harvard. Two Lafayette grads, Charley Berry and Charles Soleau, are also being considered.

RYAN SOLD TO MILLERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—One of the most colorful ball players of the National league has been sold to Minneapolis to replace Leo Norris, going up to Brooklyn, at shortstop. He is John C. "Blondy" Ryan, whose message: "They can't beat us" helped boost the Giants into a pennant a couple of years ago. Ryan starred in the old loop, but was traded to Philadelphia, finally was released and signed by the Yankees when Frank Crosetti was injured.

WITTENBERG ON TOP

COLUMBUS, Dec. 19—Wittenberg college, led by Jerry Donahue, who caged 16 points, defeated Bob Shea's Franklin U. team 42-22 at the Y.M.C.A. court last night. The score at the half was 19-11.

FINDLAY IS WINNER

FINDLAY Dec. 19—Findlay college defeated Ohio Northern last night 51-32 in a free-scoring cage game played here.

Rose Bowl Edge Given Methodists

Comparative Figures Provide 20 Point Margin for Texas Gridiron Team

Walter Johns, national football statistician for Central Press, in behalf of Southern Methodist university. Devising into a pile of numerals, the gridiron Archimedes emerges with the conclusion that the Mustangs are 20 points better than Stanford, and should win the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day by some such margin.

Here is Exhibit A: Southern Methodist beat U. C. L. A. 21 to 0. Stanford lost to U. C. L. A. 7 to 6. That makes Southern Methodist 22 points better than Stanford, doesn't it? Certainly, but the professor doesn't stop there. To continue: Texas Christian is four points better than Santa Clara (10 to 6). Stanford is only three points better than Santa Clara (9 to 6). Therefore, according to Exhibit B, Texas Christian is one point better than Stanford, but Southern Methodist is six points better than T. C. U. (20-14). Which gives the Mustangs a seven-point margin over the Indians.

BY WAY OF ST. LOUIS

As long as we have started to play ball with the professor, let's go on. Here is Exhibit C: Southern Methodist is 29 points better than Washington university (St. Louis) having won 35 to 6. Illinois is 22 points better than Washington U. (28 to 6). Ergo Southern Methodist is seven points better than Illinois. Illinois is 19 points better than Southern California (19 to 0) so S. M. U. must be 26 points better than Southern California. But Stanford was only three points better than Southern California (3 to 0). Thus, we reach the crushing conclusion that S. M. U. is 23 points better than Stanford.

For those doubting Thomases who never can be told, the professor has some more data. Exhibit D begins at Tulsa. Thus: Tulsa is just as good as Kansas State (13 to 13). But Southern Methodist is 14 points better than Tulsa (14 to 0). That makes S. M. U. 14 points better than Kansas State, too. Now, Kansas State is as good as Nebraska (0 to 0). So S. M. U. is 14 points better than Nebraska. Nebraska is six points better than Oregon State (26 to 20), which automatically makes S. M. U. 20 points better than the Oregonians. Oregon State is six points better than Southern California (13 to 7). So Southern Methodist is 26 points better than Southern California. Stanford is only three points better than Southern California. But Southern Methodist, being 26 points better than Southern California, ac-

According to Exhibit D, must be 23 points better than Stanford.

FROM PITT TO PACIFIC

Don't go yet, folks. There is one more exhibit. Exhibit E begins at Pittsburgh which is the equal of Carnegie Tech (0 to 0). Temple is 13 points better than Tech (13 to 0), so Temple must be 13 points better than Pitt, too. Now Pitt is no better than Fordham (0 to 0) and Fordham is no better than St. Mary's (7 to 7). Doesn't that make Temple 13 points better than St. Mary's? Temple is 14 points better than Texas A. & M. (14 to 0), but Southern Methodist is 24 points better than Texas A. & M. (24 to 0), which makes S. M. U. 10 points better than Temple and 23 points better than St. Mary's. St. Mary's is 13 points better than San Francisco (13 to 0), which makes Southern Methodist 36 points better than San Francisco. Stanford being only 10 points better than San Francisco, must be rated 26 points inferior to Southern Methodist.

There remains one last step. Add the points of each exhibit expressing S. M. U. superiority and you get 26 plus 23 plus 23 plus seven plus 22. That gives you 101. Divide by five and the answer is 20 points average. Can you tie that?

GREYHOUND LEADS TROT REVIVAL

Undeclared Gelding Stars in Turf's Biggest Year

CLEVELAND, Dec. 19—With unbeaten Greyhound acclaimed all-around harness champion of 1935; meetings on the Grand Circuit exceeding in number and quality any held in previous years, and an unusually bright outlook for 1936, the trotting horse sport looks back on a highly successful season with only slightly less enthusiasm than it looks ahead into 1936.

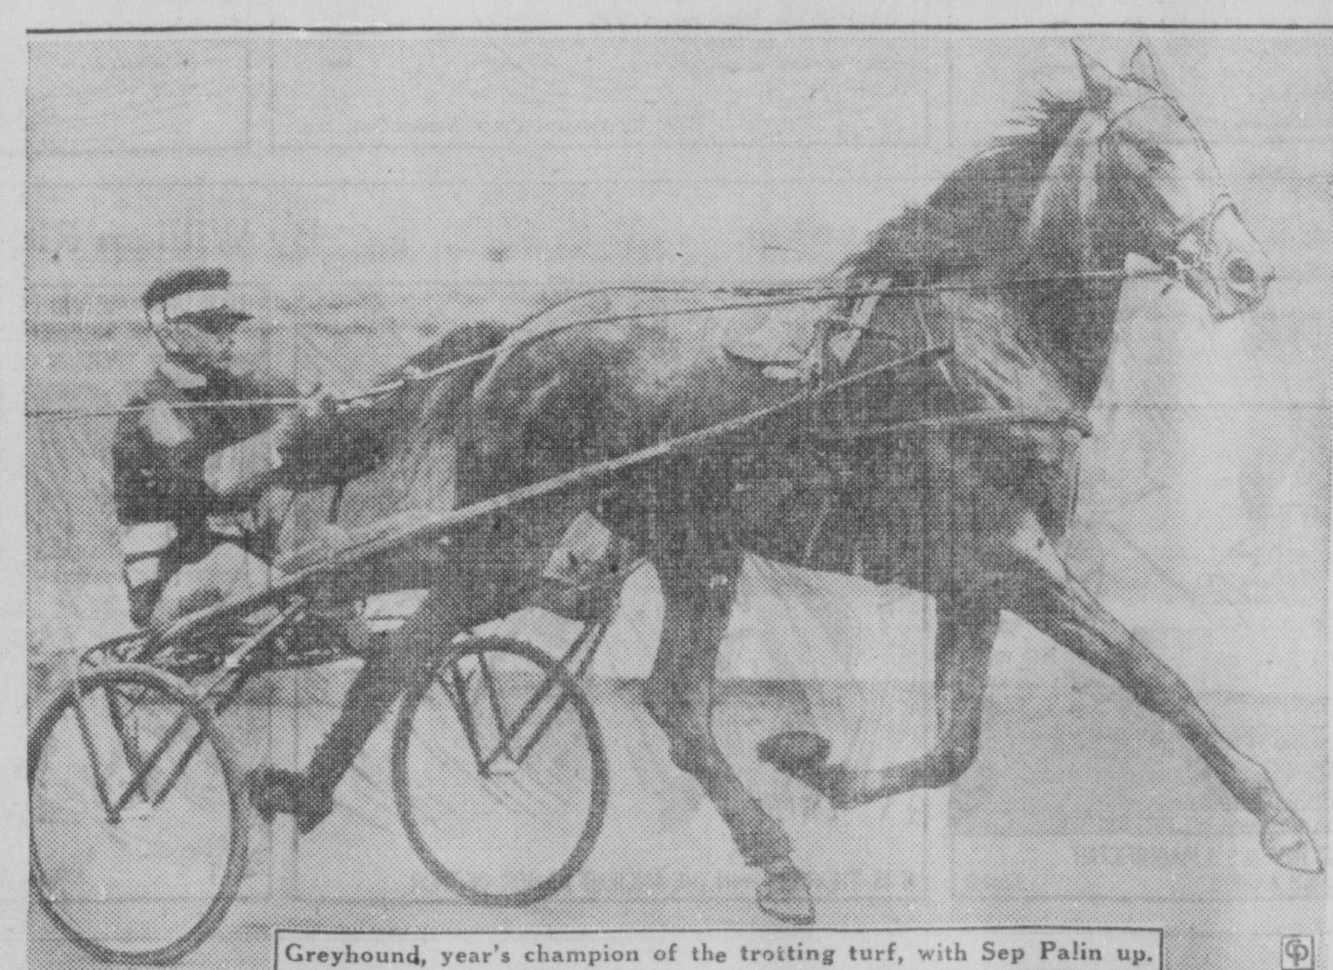

Figures for 1936 indicate that optimism evidenced by harness horsemen everywhere is not overconfidence. Only eight Grand Circuit meetings were held in 1933. Nine were held in 1934. The past season saw 10. The value of the Hambletonian Stake, raced annually at Goshen, N. Y., as the Kentucky Derby of the harness turf, jumped nearly $10,000 in 1935 over 1934. And every one of the meetings on the big time trotting loop climbed out of the red.

More Tracks Interested

Launching its 1935 season at Lexington, Ky., for the first spring card ever held in the Blue Grass, the Grand Circuit swept on through Toledo; Cleveland; Toronto, Ontario; Salem, N. H. (Rockingham Park); Goshen; Springfield, Ill.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Indianapolis, Ind., and back to Lexington for the tenth and final meeting.

With the annual meeting of Grand Circuit stewards scheduled in mid-January, every indication points to all of the 1935 points participating in the 1936 top-flight circuit, plus prominent tracks in the Far West, such as those located at Pomona, near Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego and Phoenix.

Greyhound, gray gelding owned by E. J. Baker, St. Charles, Ill., and trained and driven by Sep Palin, stands out as the world-beater of 1935. He won eight races, lost none and earned $26,712.52. His record of 2:00, a new world's record for a three-year-old trotting gelding, was made at Springfield Ill., Aug. 20.

Rosalind Favored

Rosalind, strong winter book favorite for the 1936 Hambletonian Stake, is owned by Gibson White, Lexington, and is trained and driven by Gibson's father, Ben F. White. This bay filly earned $10,086.77 for her youthful master, to be acclaimed top money winning juvenile of 1935. She also earned a mark of 2:03 in her victory in the junior division of the Kentucky Futurity, at Lexington, Sept. 23.

The title of champion aged trotter for 1935 has two equally rightful claimants in Calumet Evelyn, owned by McConville Brothers, Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Tara, the property of Paul Bowser, Boston wrestling impresario. Both of these mares are four years old and both got the same mark of 2:00 for the mile.

Calumet Evelyn, however, was not apparently satisfied with her trotting record. As a result, she stepped out to win half of the honors for the champion aged pacer of 1935. By establishing a mark of 1:59½, Calumet Evelyn earned extra laurels and equaled the mark of Laurel Hanover, owned by Sullivan and Mahwinney, Machias, Me.

Pacers Share Honors

Jack Orr, also owned by Gibson White, won in 1935 the honor of leading money winning pacer of any age. He captured $6,643.79 as a juvenile during the past season, and established his mark at 2:04½, which equals the world's record for a two-year-old pacing gelding. Sharing this mark of 2:04½, and therefore the title of champion two-year-old pacer of 1935, is Erla, owned by R. J. "Dick" Reynolds, Winston-Salem, N. C., who stepped a mile in the same time that Jack Orr made. Erla's performance is a new world's record for two-year-old pacing fillies.

Tryax, owned by Radisson Farms, Chicago, won the title of champion three-year-old pacer of 1935, by stepping a mile off in 2:02½.

With all of these champions entered in the 1936 battle lists, and under the same ownership, there should be no lack of battle royals to determine the world champs of another season.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. A. SHEPARD, Famous Bridge Teacher

WHAT REMINDS ME

A FEW NIGHTS ago I saw a high contract defeated, merely because the declarer neglected to state just how he intended playing the few last cards, thereby being unable to take a finesse necessary for his purpose. That reminds me of a similar case, played by R. F. Sentner, one of the finest partners living, also equally likable. What New York lost, Wheeling, W. Va., gained, when he transferred his play from the Knickerbocker Whist club, to the Fort Henry club.

Sentner sat South, and played the hand at 7-Hearts, doubled by West, as the latter had only to lead off his Ace of diamonds to defeat the contract a trick. Thinking that the contract might be defeated worse by not at once leading his Ace, West's opening lead was the Q of hearts, which appeared unable to do any harm. What can South win against the best subsequent defense?

Hand:

South: A K J 10 4 8 6 8 4 10 6

North: Q J 9 5 A 10 6 3 K 9 4 2

Declarer led his last trump, and West was squeezed. If he let go his Ace of diamonds, dummy's Ace of spades and K of diamonds must win the two last tricks. In case West had to hang on to his Ace of diamonds, dummy's diamond would be discarded and its two spades would win the last two tricks. There was no escape for the doubler. Declarer played the hand beautifully. It is not often that an Ace can be shut out, but West should not have risked not at once taking it.

BUSINESS CENSUS TO START IN DISTRICT JANUARY 2

27 ENUMERATORS TO BE SELECTED FOR 5 COUNTIES

R. M. Clifford, Supervisor, Outlines Details for Nation-Wide Activity

Raymond M. Clifford, who has been named local supervisor of the census of business, today announced that enumeration work will start in District 11 on January 2.

Twenty-seven enumerators will be named within the next few days to make the canvass in this district, which includes five counties, Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, Hocking and Perry.

Offices of the census are to be established at the post office, Chillicothe, and a staff of three persons will be employed to handle the work.

All census employees are bound by a strict census oath not to reveal any information contained on business reports and the law makes any violation a criminal offense.

To Canvass All

Mr. Clifford said that every retail and wholesale business, all hotels, places of amusement, business service companies, insurance agencies, real estate offices, and trucking and bus companies, all banks, office building managers and contractors will be canvassed for reports on their operations during the calendar year 1935. The results are to be tabulated in Philadelphia, headquarters of the business census, and become the basic statistics which businesses use in planning their operating policies.

All enumerators will be instructed thoroughly on all phases of the census, Mr. Clifford said, prior to the beginning of the canvass. Sam Briggs, who has been selected as assistant supervisor, will help conduct the training courses.

Supervisor Clifford explained this census has been extended considerably beyond the limitations of the census of distribution for 1929, and the census of American business for 1933, as a result of business requests that all phases of business be included.

"It is designed," he said, "to

They're Worrying Both Parties

TREASON of R. E. Clements (l.) and F. E. Townsend (r.), co-founders of "Old Age Revolving Pensions" movement, to place a complete ticket from presidential nominee down, on 1936 ballots, has both major parties worried, it is declared in Washington. The pair are seen in their Washington headquarters. Clements is actual manager of the organization.

supply a definite answer to the question of how many concerns there are in business, the total volume of annual business, and the total payrolls and employment. More than 100 representatives, delegated by various business associations in each field to be covered, met with census officials and formulated the questions to be asked."

Retail trade will be divided into two size classifications—stores with total sales of $50,000 and over, and those with sales of less than $50,000. Commodity data will be sought from the larger group and from all wholesale establishments including exporters, importers and limited function wholesalers.

For the first time, Mr. Clifford announced, the census includes banking and finance for the entire range of commercial, agricultural and mortgage and personal credit finance as well as security brokers and dealers.

Construction, including building, highway and heavy construction

by contractors is included again, as in 1929. General contractors, operative builders and sub-contractors are to be covered.

Transportation included

Highway and street transportation, including trucking for hire and bus operations are included in the census for the first time. Commercial warehousing is included in the comprehensive plans announced today.

A census of the business of operating office, commercial and other non-residential buildings will be made in cities of more than 10,000. For the first time the operations of insurance companies, agents and brokers, real estate brokers and dealers, management and rental agents as well as the business aspects of non-profit associations and organizations of every type, (exclusive of religious bodies) are included in the census.

The census of service establishments, which in 1933 included only personal, business and mechanical repair services, is extended in the plans to include certain classes of professionally trained persons. Mr. Clifford explained these include advertising counsellors, architects, auditors, certified public accountants, engineering services, private detective agencies, marker research services, map drawing and cartography services, and sales consultants. Theaters and hotels are to be covered as in 1929 and 1933, he said.

The present census is in answer to the request of business for dependable 1935 information for sounder planning of expansion programs, and is a continuation of the similar business censuses of 1929 and 1933.

If oil embargoes had been declared against Italy a month ago, the Ethiopians would be driving the invaders out of their country today. This, however, seems no longer the goal of the "peace" leaders.

One Dish Combines Virtues Of Meat, Vegetable Course

Welsh Rarebit Macaroni
Molded Tomato Salad
on Shredded Cabbage

Cottage Pudding With Orange Sauce

The rarebit dish combines the virtues of a meat course and cooked vegetables. This orange sauce may be served over many different desserts.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Welsh Rarebit Macaroni—One-half pound macaroni, two tablespoons butter, one-half cup milk, one cup cooked peas. Cook the macaroni, drain, and add the butter, milk and well-drained peas. Part of their liquid may be used in place of the milk. Stir together and place in a buttered baking dish. Pour over the welsh rarebit, made as follows, and bake in a moderate oven till brown on top: One tablespoon butter, one teaspoon flour, one-half cup milk, two cups grated cheese, one-half teaspoon mustard, salt, pepper and cayenne. Melt the butter, add the flour and gradually stir in the milk. Cook till thickened, add the seasonings. An excellent variation is to melt together very slowly one-half pound cheese and one-half cup tomato soup. Add one well-beaten egg and then one-half cup rich milk with one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce with pepper to give a hot taste. This may also be served as a rarebit on crackers.

Orange Sauce—Two cups sugar,

three-fourths cups orange juice, three tablespoons white corn syrup, one teaspoon grated orange rind. Mix the above ingredients and boil for about 10 minutes, or until the syrup is of the desired consistency. Serve warm over cottage pudding or on pudding. Grapefruit may be substituted for the orange juice and grated rind. This sauce is especially good for use on left over sponge cake etc.

Cinnamon Candy Jelly

Mix five and one-half cups of sugar and three cups of water in a large saucepan. Add one-half pound of red cinnamon candies. Bring to a boil and at once add one bottle of fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full boil and boil hard half a minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Nice to serve with meat.

POPEYE IS CAMPUS

HERO AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Harvard University freshman have cast an overwhelming vote for Presidink Popeye of Spinachovia.

Barney Google, recently of New York but now of the Ozark Fun-nyland, was runner-up to the spinach eating sailor-man.

Bunched a good distance behind the two leaders, were Flash Gordon, Blondie, Webster's Timid Soul and Dick Tracy.

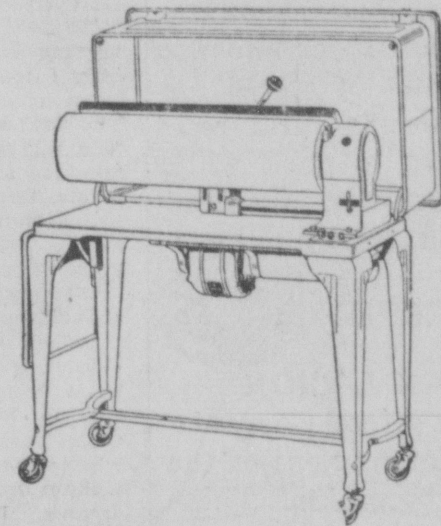

George S. Viereck Jr., of New York, conducted for the Harvard Crimson a poll of more than 250 freshmen, or more than a quarter of the entire yearling class, finding that four out of five future teachers, doctors, business men, lawyers, scientists, etc., read the funnies regularly.

Tarzan received only one vote from the funny-reading freshmen. Only 32 of the Harvard freshmen considered it "beneath their dignity as students" to enjoy the funnies.

RED, BLACK OFF ON COURT TRIP TO CHILlicothe

Game to Start at 8:15; Reger Announcing Bremen to Be Met Dec. 27

As the Tiger cage team prepared to leave for Chillicothe this evening to take on Earl Young's veteran varsity, Principal E. E. Reger announced that he had scheduled Bremen for a Dec. 27 game. The game will be played on the Bremen court and will prove a real test for the Tigers and should key them for their Ashville game a week later. Only the varsity team will make the trip, the reserves enjoying an off-night.

Bremen has a veteran aggregation and was runner-up in the class district meet last spring. Tonight, Bremen is playing Pleasantville in the Fairfield-co league.

Starts At 8:15
The varsity contest starts at 8:15 tonight with the reserve game earlier. A large crowd is expected to follow Jack Landrum's boys to the Ross-co metropolis where good basketball is enjoyed, win or lose.

Coach Landrum is not certain what athletes will be in his starting lineup although it is almost a safe wager it will be Styers, Andrews, Melson, Henry and Friley. If Don Henry is unable to get away from his Christmas work in an uptown store, one guess is as good as another concerning the fifth man. It may be Plum and it may be Jackson, or it may be Fickard. Henry will probably play, though, so that question will be solved.

Jenkins Is Improving
John Jenkins, spearhead of the Tiger offense and one of the best defensive players, will not even be in uniform but Coach Landrum has been informed he will be able to play after Christmas holidays. That, at least, is a bright sign.

Remember, you basketball fans, the roads are slippery, so have a care.

VILLAGERS ORGANIZE ANOTHER COURT TEAM

New Holland has organized another of its usually fast basketball teams. It has not been named yet but it will have a backer soon. On the squad are Helfrich, McCune, Bob and John Davis and Tom Kirk. All ex-hi stars in the last few years.

The team played its first game last Sunday and defeated Mt. Sterling, 32-28.

CAPITAL BEATEN, 31-52

MARIETTA, Dec. 20—Capital university was drubbed, 31-52, when Marietta college opened its cage season last night. The Columbus boys found Whiting and seven other athletes unable to stop, all Marietta men breaking into the scoring. Heischman for Capital had 19 points.

DIZZY WANTS $27,000

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 20—Predicting that the addition of Leroy Parmelee to the St. Louis Cardinal staff had made the team certain pennant winners, Jerome "Dizzy" Dean declared today that he wants $27,000 to pitch for the Cards next year. He said replacements must be made at second and third bases and behind the plate.

Well, the boys won't be out of the trenches by Christmas. Santa Claus has been detained at Geneva and will be unable to deliver Ethiopia to Roman Benny as a Christmas gift.

MUSTANGS' HEAD MAN - By Jack Sords

About THIS and THAT In Many Sports

EDITOR'S NOTE—Busy as usual, and running across an interesting yarn concerning basketball, the janitor of this column today is "borrowing" some comments from Marty Chandler's "From the Sidelines" column of the Chillicothe Seloto Gazette. Every statement carried herein is from the fluent pen of the aforesaid Mr. Chandler. Here goes:

Coach Earl Young, who ordinarily tries to out-weep doleful Gil Dobie when it comes to sizing up his team's chances at the start of a season, does not seem to be so pessimistic as he points his Red Devil cagers for their opener with Circleville Friday night.

We've seen the time when Earl would practically break down and weep at the mere mention of his basketballers. Tuesday he sounded positively cheerful as he announced the appointment of Jim Strausbaugh as captain of the quint.

Can it be that Young, taking a tip from Tom Vernia, his football colleague, is trying out some new psychology this year? Radiating optimism instead of pessimism in the hope that his lads will take down a full-fledged case of confidence.

Or can it be that Young really figures he has the stuff this season and intends to let his boys and the public at large in on the secret?

It may be the latter. It was just a week ago Saturday that Coach "Red" Armstrong of Greenfield, attending a district cage clinic at the Arch street gym, took one look at the Devils and opined aloud: "There's the next champions of the district."

Was Red Spoofing?

There may have been a bit of guile in Red's observation, for McLean, as we recall, licked C. H. S. by the tune of 22-20 and 17-10 during the regular schedule last year and nosed Chillicothe out of the Athens tournament, 22-14 in winning the district championship.

Anything the coach of the defending champions might say about a prospective opponent would be suspect with us, but, there's a chance that Red really was sincere.

For one thing, Coach Young has an almost all-senior squad to work with, including three veterans, Strausbaugh, Cox and Jones. Trainer and Higley, the other probable starters, have had considerable experience. His reserves include Conley, Cooke, Ludwig, Rees, Coleman, Thompson, Skaggs and Sommers.

Should Be Scrappy

In appointing Jim Strausbaugh as captain, Coach Young assured himself of a fighting leader who never knows what it means to give up. At least that was the sort of leadership Strausbaugh exercised on the gridiron the past season, and there's every assurance that it will be the same on the hardwood.

Chillicothe high court teams have always shown plenty of good coaching in their play; the Red Devils even in defeat, have stood out for that. But not always have they shown scrap. In fact there have been some so unkind as to call them "front runners" at times. We're predicting a fighting, aggressive aggregation this year. It couldn't be any other, the way we see it.

GAME IS CANCELED

WILMINGTON, Dec. 20—Condition of highways forced Wilmington college basketball officials to cancel a scheduled game with Urbana Junior college. The Wilmington coach was afraid to attempt the trip.

TRUNCATED SUITS

A TRUNCATED suit is a solid sequence of cards from which the apex of a solid suit has been cut, leaving K-Q-J (or more), Q-J-10-9 or J-10-9-8, as the case may be. By deducting the value of the apex, from the solid suit, we obtain the average value of the truncated suit left. If the A-K-Q is worth 2.34 defensive tricks, then the K-Q-J must be worth one trick less, or 1.34. If the A-K-Q-J is worth 2.12 defensive tricks, the Q-J-10-9 is worth only 0.12 of one defensive trick. Of course these values are only against trump calls, and when a defender. The J-10-9-8 has no probable defensive value against suit makes, but it at least can do no harm to lead defensively. It may have great assisting value for anything held by partner in that suit.

Suppose that a plain suit is held as follows: Leader, J-10-9-7; dummy, K-8-2; third hand, A-Q-5; declarer, 6-4-2. If the J is led three tricks may be captured, but if the fourth best 7 is led, the 8 will force the Q to be played. Later play may enable declarer or dummy to discard a loser of the suit, so that only two losers will be captured by defenders. Solid suits offer ideal opening leads. Truncated suits (or sequent suits, as K-Q-J-X, Q-J-10-X, J-10-9-X) offer excellent opening leads seldom doing harm, and often admirably supporting partner's defense. As stated last week, fourth-best opening leads against trump calls have almost no merit. Suppose that senior holds the K-Q-X of a side suit against a trump call. If he has diligently read his text-book, by almost any author, it is probable that he highly esteems an opening lead of the K, but suppose we consider the case more fully. The remaining three honors may be distributed in any one of 27 different ways. Having only one partner and two opponents, the chances are that he will encounter a bad adverse distribution. This will be so in six cases to the extent of losing a trick. The Q, from Q-J-9, costs only half as much as leading from Q-J-X. A fourth-best lead from Q-J-X-X, costs six tricks in 27 cases.

The lower the two sequent honors heading a suit are, the less damage an opening lead of the top honor probably will cause. Thus the J lead from J-10-X averages a loss of only two tricks in 27 cases. Every player understands that the declarer leads from one hand towards strength in the other hand. Yet players make opening leads from suits which urge that the lead come up to, as it will if another player leads the suit.

MILNE, CRUELLY TORTURED, RELEASED

YOUTH, 23, FOUND TAPED, GAGGED IN DITCH, IS REPORTED SERIOUS; FEDERAL MEN HUNT BRUTAL GANG

Reports $25,000 Paid As Ransom Unconfirmed Believe Boy Thrown from Moving Car; Condition of Scion Delays Questioning

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 19—(INS)—While 23-year-old Caleb Milne, 4th, scion of a wealthy Philadelphia family, lay moaning and delirious in Doylestown hospital today a veritable army of G-men and Pennsylvania state police began a painstaking hunt for his kidnapers.

Bound and gagged, his eyes and mouth taped shut, young Milne was found lying in a ditch on the York road, seven miles from here, late last night.

Apparently he had been thrown from a swift-moving automobile.

$25,000 Reported Paid

There were reports the youth's millionaire grandfather, Caleb Milne, 2d, had paid $25,000 for his release.

This could not be verified, however, as G-men and state police flatly refused to discuss the case until they had had a chance to question the youth.

BALLOT ON BEER SALE IS DELAYED

'Dads' Uncertain Concerning Provision of Plan

Take a handful of councilmen, mix them with an ordinance regulating closing hours for beer parlors and the eliminating of screens, and the result is a lengthy discussion, and postponed action.

The city's closing ordinance, establishing the hours from 12 midnight to 5:30 a. m. and ordering the removal of screens from windows and doors so police have a clear view through the building, went back to the committee again Wednesday night for alterations.

The ordinance, amended after the last session, had no effect on 3.2 beer in the closing regulations. Councilmen W. M. Reid, who has backed the ordinance, contended it should include all beer, and should be amended.

Councilman Daniel Ryan then asked if the screen clause referred to booths inside the establishments. If it did, he explained he was not in favor of the ordinance. Solicitor Carl C. Leist stated the ordinance referred only to screens at windows preventing a view of the interior. The general discussion that followed prevented a vote.

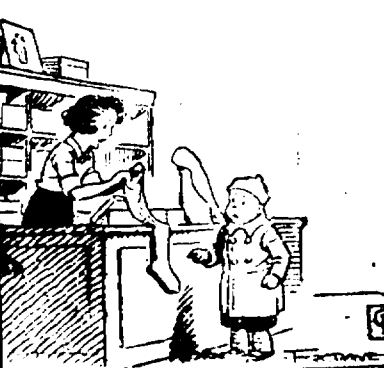

At a previous session an ordinance brought from Lancaster regulating closing hours was defeated.

FIRE CHIEF IS GRANTED MONTH'S ABSENCE LEAVE

Fire Chief Talmer Wise was granted a month's leave of absence without pay by councilmen Wednesday to make a trip to Florida. Mr. Wise and his family will leave next Monday. They will make the trip in a bus reconstructed into a house car.

During the chief's absence, Tom Strawser, oldest man in the department, will be acting chief.

MRS. GORDON, 78, IS HEART VICTIM

Week's Illness Fatal; Funeral Services Friday

Mrs. Julia Schwartz Gordon, 78, widow of Frank C. Gordon, died Wednesday at p. m. in Berger hospital after a week's illness. She suffered a heart attack at her home, 434 E. Franklin-st.

The funeral will be Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the home with Rev. George L. Troutman officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery by Mader & Ebert.

She was a native of Ross-co, born March 28, 1856 to Mr. and Mrs. August Cook. She was first married to William Schwartz who also preceded her in death.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews; three half-sisters, Mrs. Mervin Jennings of Columbus, Mrs. Ann Ritt of this city, Mrs. George C. Gerhard of Jackson-twp, and two half-brothers, Fred Cook of Walnut-twp, and Charles Kramer of Sentinel Butte, N. D.

The body will be taken to the home this afternoon where friends may call anytime after 5 o'clock.

4H CLUB CALVES BRING FINE PRICE ON CITY MARKET

Two 4 H club calves owned by Dorothy and Harold Hoover, Jackson-twp, set the top price at the local livestock sale Wednesday afternoon, selling at $50 and $55. Both steers weighed about 850 pounds.

Cattle receipts totalled 138 head, with medium to good steers and heifers ranging from $7.10 to $9.55. Good to choice hogs ranged from $9.25 to $9.40, approximately 10 cents lower than the previous local sale. Hog receipts were 603 head.

BREHMER ESTATE VALUED AT $21,612 IN INVENTORY

J. J. Brehmer, florist, left an estate valued at $21,612.07, an inventory filed in probate court by E. S. Neuding, Paul Johnson and F. E. Barnhill, appraisers.

Stocks and securities are listed at $1,450; cash $2,012.07 and real estate $150. R. L. Behmer is executor.

BYRNS PREDICTS BONUS PASSAGE

House Speaker Declares Issue to Be Voted By Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—(INS)—Passage of a bill for payment of the soldiers' bonus by Feb. 1, 1936, was predicted today by Speaker Joseph Byrns of the house of representatives.

He declined, however, to say whether a bonus bill would pass over a presidential veto.

Byrns said that there is a possibility that congress will reject the Patman inflation method of paying the bonus and choose the Vinson bill backed by the American Legion.

The speaker returned to the capitol today with the congressional group, headed by Vice President Garner, which attended the inauguration of the new Philippine commonwealth.

Both Vice President Garner and Byrns planned early calls on President Roosevelt to discuss legislation to be considered in the session which opens on Jan. 3.

Byrns, surveying possibilities for the session said:

STATE TO PROVIDE AID FOR SUFFERS

Senate Approves Relief Program Drafting Emergency Bill to Loan Money to Counties in Desperate Straits

COLUMBUS, Dec. 19—(INS)—A new state relief program to stave off a crisis until the middle of next year at least, was perfected in the state senate today, as members of the legislature reconvened to enact emergency legislation.

Sen. James Metzbaum (R), Cleveland, turned over to senate leaders a draft of an emergency bill that will provide $1,500,000 state loans to counties, on counties, on the basis of their need.

His measure, providing for distribution of the money by the emergency board, would provide relief funds through January. Metzbaum's bill incorporates the suggestions a number of members of the House and Senate. It was to receiving consideration of both houses late today.

The diminutive Cleveland at $2,000 to charitable organizations, has been charged with responsibility for putting in shape a program that will enable him to take up the direct relief burden dropped by the federal government on Dec. 1.

Metzbaum is putting the finished touches on a second measure which proposes a state relief fund to carry the relief program through through first six months of 1936. The second measure will not be presented to the assembly for action until early next month, however.

The emergency measure is designated to advance loans, at two per cent interest, to the 19 Ohio counties that have no relief money available. The loans would be repaid out of counties' shares of the utility excise tax distribution, from bond issues which they might issue, or from future relief distributions.

Attorney General Bricker has informed the senate and house relief conferences that the state emergency board has authority to distribute the funds.

Santa Claus' Mail Heavier Than Ever!

But It's of Indiana Village We Speak — A Village With a Postoffice Staff Larger Than the Population of the Town at This Season of the Year

Postmaster Oscar Philipps of Santa Claus, Ind.

Main street, Santa Claus, Ind., with postoffice in foreground.

SANTA CLAUS, Ind.—Christmas mail dispatched from this southern Indiana village will be heavier than usual this year, the postoffice department has notified Postmaster Oscar Philipps. In fact, the postoffice staff at the peak may equal the village's population of less than 40!

Philipps will be serving his apprenticeship as Christmas postmaster of Santa Claus.

Philipps became postmaster last May following the death of James F. Martin, who had held the office for 28 years and who had seen the obscure little village rise to national fame as the "headquarters of Santa Claus."

The Christmas season mail this year will far exceed the annual half-million pieces of past years. Postmaster Philipps found the rush beginning early this year.

A task for small office. Late in November a telephone call from a Chicago wholesale company notified him that it was shipping 350,000 circulars to his postoffice for remailing for holiday trade. The first shipment contained 22,000 pieces.

"That mail alone is almost a half million pieces," Postmaster Philipps said, "so I know that it will be a tremendous job taking care of the business this season."

Each year since the town of Santa Claus became nationally known as a Christmas mailing center, there has been a steady increase in the amount of business. Persons from all over the United States, and even from foreign countries, send their Christmas greeting cards and gift parcels to be mailed from this village so that they may carry the official "Santa Claus" postmark. Mail last season went to every corner of the globe and some came in for re-mailing from Egypt and the Philippines.

Town Attracts Tourists

Although the town attracts more and more tourists annually as its fame spreads, there is little mail business except during the pre-holiday season. Then it takes the combined efforts of the postmaster and a corps of assistants to handle the heavy burden. Even with a stamp canceling machine that has a capacity of 30,000 pieces an hour, the task is heavy.

The village of Santa Claus itself merely is a "wide spot in the road." It lies in the hilly wooded lands of southern Indiana, just five miles from the place, now called Lincoln City, where Abraham Lincoln passed the formative years of his life—between the ages of seven and 21—and where Nancy Hanks Lincoln rests on a knoll in the center of a beautiful state park named for her.

No Railroad

The town itself has no railroad. Mail has to be transported by truck the five miles to Lincoln City.

As a philanthropic gesture Carl A. Barrett, a Chicagoan, is developing a park in the village to be known as Santa Claus park, and a 24-foot granite statue of the Christmas saint will be unveiled in the park at Christmas time. The park in addition to its statue will have a "wishing well," a reindeer enclosure, a lake, a "Christmas Tree Lane," a doll house and other features intended to gladden the hearts of childhood.

Probation for Year

G. O. P. LEADERS OF PICKAWAY-CO TO AID BRICKER

Endorsement is Voted at Meeting in Office of Executive Chairman

RESOLUTION IS DRAFTED

Ruble, Fairfield - Co Judge, Urged to Run By Three District Groups

Pickaway-co Republicans today were solidly behind the candidacy of John W. Bricker, attorney general, for the nomination for Governor.

Endorsement of the Mt. Sterling native was voted unanimously at a joint committee meeting Wednesday evening in the office of Tom A. Renick, chairman of the county executive committee. The resolution call was issued last Saturday by John E. Walters, former county commissioner, and chairman of the central committee.

Between 25 and 30 attended the meeting.

Bricker, born only a few miles from the Pickaway-co line in Mason-co, is assured the support of all Republicans in the county as a result of the endorsement. The committee have pledged themselves to deliver a large vote for the attorney general, who, so far, has no important opposition for the nomination.

Judge Ruble Supported

The committeemen have taken no other action so far as endorsements for major offices is concerned except vote support for Judge C. E. Ruble, of the Fairfield-co probate court, if he will enter the campaign for congressman in the 11th district.

Judge Ruble, who is serving his second term as probate judge, also was mayor of Lancaster two terms, and served a similar period as solicitor. He has never been defeated for office and has never carried on an active campaign, according to local party leaders, whose action is significant since committees do not, as a rule, endorse when there is a possibility of opposition.

Ross and Hocking-co Republicans have also voted endorsements for the Fairfield-co man.

Considered Home Boy

In commenting on the Bricker endorsement, one party leader said today:

"It isn't usual that a county committee climbs on the band wagon so early but when a man as outstanding as John Bricker seeks an office we believe it is our duty to give him our support in every possible way. We consider John almost a Pickaway-co boy."

The resolution endorsing the candidate follows:

Whereas, The Pickaway County Republican Executive and Central Committees realize that the Honorable John W. Bricker, Attorney General of Ohio, in the administration of that difficult office, has rendered unto the people of the State of Ohio a sane and efficient service that can be looked upon with justifiable pride and.

Whereas, large numbers of the citizens of this great State, in addition to members of the Republican party, know that it is imperative that a man of great character, mental stability and high ability be elected Governor of Ohio for the year 1936.

SCIOTO-CO BACKS DAVEY

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1—(INS)—Democratic state headquarters announced today that 71 members of the executive and central committees of Scioto-co have signed a resolution endorsing Governor Davey for a second term, bringing total county committee endorsements to ten.

ATTORNEYS FOR BRUNO PREPARE APPEAL PAPERS

Lawyers to Visit Hauptmann; New Attack Opened on Maid

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. (INS)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann and his lawyers today will start composing the appeal to the Court of Appeals that, in all probability, will mean life or death for the Bronx carpenter, awaiting execution for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

The one-time machine gunner's attorneys will visit him in his Trenton death cell and piece by piece they'll go over the points upon which the appeal will be based.

In the meantime reports that the defense was busy gathering new evidence were heard on all sides.

C. Lloyd Fisher, Hauptmann's chief of defense, was reported to have obtained an affidavit from George La Rue, 51, a traveling salesman of Teaneck, N. J., re-involving Violet Sharpe, maid in the Morrow home, who died by her own hand.

Saw Maid in Car

La Rue, it is said, contends that he saw the maid in a car with a man between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m., on March 1, 1932, several hours before the kidnaping.

He said he came upon the car four times on Route 27, near Princeton, N. J., and that the car was packed with blankets and a long object, which might have been a ladder.

The Evening Journal says it learned from a high New Jersey political figure that secret evidence supposedly packed with dynamite and "suppressed by the state" at Hauptmann's trial will be barred by the court of appeals on the express orders of Governor Hoffman.

The newspaper declares the governor places considerable credence in this new evidence and quotes the unnamed political figure as follows:

"He (Governor Hoffman) is determined that every bit of truth, either for or against Hauptmann, must be told. It is for this reason that he has welcomed to his office all those who bring tangible evidence."

He does not know whether this evidence already in his possession and other facts which may come along will prove fruitful. But he will certainly lay his information before the court of appeals and insist that the prosecution produce witnesses they avoided calling at the trial.

Inquiry Welcome

To this, officials of the prosecution replied calmly that any investigation of their methods of presenting evidence would be welcomed.

They pointed out that the case had been successfully prosecuted and insisted that all necessary witnesses had testified.

Governor Hoffman said the court probably would not meet until after Christmas.

Yesterday he expressed a desire to hear Dr. John F. (Jafse) Condon's story of the ransom negotiations and said there would be no official objection to Condon taking a lie detector test, to which he has been challenged by Hauptmann.

CITY MAY DELAY COURT-ST WORK

Council Favors Starting Sewer Until Warmer Weather

As soon as the Court-st repaving is finished across the Mill-st intersection further work will be postponed until spring if the plan meets with the approval of WPA engineers, councilmen decided Wednesday night.

Recent bad weather has caused a number of delays on the repaving work and councilmen believe it is foolish to continue the work with the most severe weather just ahead. They were informed the winter weather has no effect on the sewer installation.

W. M. Justus, service director, reported about 130 feet of paving would be required to complete the street across the intersection. Some new brick will be needed. If the plan meets the approval of WPA officials the street will be finished as soon as possible, opened to traffic, and the workmen will be transferred to sewer projects. Approximately 100 men have been employed on the Court-st job.

JUSTUS GIVES BILRS IN LIGHTS CLEAN BILL

The city street lights are delivering all the candlepower required of them, councilmen were informed. They recently directed W. M. Justus, service director, to meet with light officials and have some of the lights tested and the globes cleaned. Mr. Justus reported the light company manager said the globes were recently cleaned and all of the lights were satisfactory.

Labors of Two Ashville Men Bring Kiddies Joy

Basement of Schlegel Home Filled With Toys to Be Distributed to Deserving By Boy Scouts

By FRANKLIN KIBLER

Scores of little Ashville faces that might be streaked with tears on Christmas, because Santa couldn't negotiate his chimney act, will be transformed into smiles through two well-known residents using their hobby to give old St. Nick a boost.

In a basement room under the funeral home of E. F. Schlegel is the heap of smiles—over 100 fine wooden toys, skillfully and sturdily constructed and painted to perfection.

On Christmas eve the Ashville Boy Scouts, who have been conducting a toy rebuilding campaign, will distribute the presents to needy kiddies.

Built By Two Men

During the last few weeks the wooden toys have been constructed by Mr. Schlegel and Bruce L. Davidson, retired architect.

Mr. Schlegel owns one of the finest home woodworking shops in the county under his funeral home on Main-st. Mr. Davidson lives only a few doors away and together they spend their spare time fashioning beautiful articles in wood.

Last year they made about five dozen wooden toys for the Christmas distribution and later learned a few kiddies had been slighted. This year they decided to start work a little sooner and make enough to go around.

The men manufactured three different toys this year, ducks, wagons and cradles. Their stock includes 36 cradles, 36 ducks and 30 wagons. The ducks are those that waddle down an incline.

In addition to their work on the toys they have made a number of attractive Christmas gifts for their personal use.

Both men are members of the Home Craft club of Columbus, an organization of business and professional men who make wood-working their hobby. The club meets monthly at Ohio State university and skilled craftsmen are usually the speakers. The members also exchange "new wrinkles" of their hobby.

Ashville citizens may be proud of the part these two men have played in placing the word "Happy" in front of Christmas for the needy children.

ARMY'S PLANES UNFIT, CONGRESS INFORMED TODAY

Gen. Craig Warns Third of Airplanes Not Able to Strenuous Duty

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (INS)—Secret testimony that one-third of the army's airplanes are unfit for war service today spurred backers of a huge air defense in an impending battle in congress.

The information was given a house appropriations subcommittee by Gen. Malin, chief of staff of the army.

The army, Gen. Craig's testimony disclosed, has achieved but 50 percent of the original five-year air program of defense. Unless congress provides funds the air service may slip even further, the army estimates that 891 of With 1,338 airplanes in all, they are fit for battle in modern warfare. Some congressional students believe that the number is not more than 500.

A battle for a new aviation program, calling for purchase of 800 planes a year for three years at a cost of $240,000,000, was in progress before the house subcommittee.

Chairman John J. McSwain (D) of South Carolina of the house military affairs committee went before the subcommittee today urging that congress back the war department's expansion plan.

Eddy to Sing Christmas Songs Next Monday

Noted Baritone to Present "Silent Night"; Mario Chamlee to Have Part in Bernie's 30 Minutes Tuesday

When Nelson Eddy stands before a microphone two nights before Christmas to sing "Silent Night," it will mark a dramatic moment in this brilliant young baritone's career.

He will be repeating a scene of his early youth when, as a choir boy he chanted that same hymn for the congregation of an obscure New England church.

Eddy, broadcasting from Hollywood, where he is making a new picture, will have his mother in the audience. She, too, may be visualizing bygone days when her young son wrote articles for a newspaper and she worked in a university in a barely successful attempt to make both ends meet.

The program Monday evening over the NBS-WEAF network at 8:30 E. S. T. also will include "Open The Gates of the Temple," by Knapp; "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" by Wagner; and "Il Balen" from "Il Trovatore" by Verdi, all to be sung by Eddy.

Miss Margaret Speaks, young American soprano, will sing a group of carols accompanied by the Choral symphony and William Daly's Symphonic String orchestra. Miss Speaks and Mr. Eddy also will blend their voices in "Didn't You Believe," from "Good Morning Dearie," Jerome's Kern's popular Operetta.

Mario Chamlee, outstanding concert artist and one of America's greatest tenors, will be heard singing Italian Christmas carols during his guest appearance with Ben Bernie and All the Lads on Tuesday, Dec. 24, at 9.

Chamlee has for many seasons sung with the Metropolitan Opera Company in addition to engagements with the San Francisco and Ravinia Park Opera companies. He is a great favorite with concert and opera audiences. His recent tours from coast to coast have always attracted a capacity attendance. More recently Chamlee has turned to radio, and in his brief career has made several guest appearances on many of the major programs. He is also well known as "Tony" on the Tony and Gus Program.

HOLLYWOOD Ernestine Schnumacher, 34-year-old prima donna of operatic fame, will sing "Stille Nacht" on the Chateau hour, Saturday, Dec. 21, over a nationwide NBC-WEAF network at 9:30 p. m. E. S. T., when she joins Berry at the microphone. Known as "Mother" Schumann-Heink to millions, she said "I hope that my favorite song will help bring a

New Social Security Act

Explanation of Act Effective January 1
No. 6—WILL THERE BE SECURITY?

By DALE COX.

HOWEVER DESIRABLE social security, there is no question but that it comes only at a price. The American worker as yet knows nothing of the price. Whether he retains the plan adopted for him this year, depends in large extent we would guess, upon the price he is called upon to pay for it.

Statisticians for the steel industry have figured out that adoption of the Social Security act, after a few years, will cost the steel industry's employers $11 a year for each employee, which will add approximately 35 cents a ton to the cost of producing steel. Other industries can break down their additional costs similarly to learn how much the act will cost them in terms of the product they sell.

Huge Total Needed

Application of the system of payroll taxes provided for in the Social Security act to the employers of the country for the years 1922 to 1933 would have produced about $10,000,000 in enough unemployment in the prosperous period prior to 1930 to have reduced the fund from $10,000,000 to about $2,000,000,000. Starting the long depression of the 1930's, with only $2,000,000,000 in reserve, therefore, the committee admits that this fund would have provided unemployment compensation for only a few months during the depression.

Then the fund would have been depleted and would have had to

However desirable social security, there is no question that it comes only at a price borrow heavily from the treasury, as the British unemployment insurance fund often has done, or the compensation payments under the act would have stopped and direct governmental relief would have begun.

Offers Barest Security

Looking at the new act, it would seem that too much must not be taken for granted about its beneficent provisions. At the very most, it offers nothing more than the barest security for the individual under the best possible circumstances. For millions of people now working it offers no security worthy of the name. For other millions, in the main the younger people, it holds something of real promise provided it is found workable and administratively feasible.

Circleville high school's varsity went up against a tall, fast Capital university freshman team Wednesday evening in a practice game and lost 20 to 48. Capital used 10 men, eight of whom were over six feet tall.

The half ended 28-11 in favor of Capital.

A great percentage of the college team's shots were scored on long pegs over the zone defense used by Coach Jack Landrum.

The local team's points were scored: Styers, 8; Andrews, 3; Melson, 5; Friley, 1; Henry, 1; Jackson, 2; Fickard, 0.

Jackson, playing a guard, looked good and rates a chance at a defensive post in the Chillicothe game.

EX-HUBBY HELD IN STECK DEATH

Thomas L. Matkins, Former Ziegfeld Star, Dies in Plunge

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19—(INS)—Mystery today still shrouded, the death of Olga Steck, 42, red-haired, former Ziegfeld-prima donna, killed in a twelve-story plunge from a window of a downtown hotel.

Thomas L. Matkins, Los Angeles bond salesman and former husband of the star, was held in the city prison for further questioning by police, who declared they were not satisfied with his story of the circumstances leading to the death plunge.

Watkins surrendered voluntarily after police had sought his for nine hours. He disappeared from the hotel room shortly after the girl dropped to her death.

He told officers he was packing a suitcase in the room when he "heard a swish and turned around" and his ex-wife was gone. He thought she had simply left the room, he said, and he went to visit a friend.

Inspector Allan McGinn of the homicide squad pointed out that other guests in the hotel were by the crash of the girl's fall.

The tragedy climaxed a party in Watkins' room, attended by Miss Steck, Dixie Marsh, fellow-entertainers at a night club, and Lyle Payton, city engineer of Stockton, Cal. Payton and the Marsh girl left the party an hour or more before Miss Steck's death, police said.

They had gone to the room from the night club, earlier in the evening, Miss Steck had engaged in an argument on the street in front of the club with her present husband, Everett E. Saxe, liquor dealer, in which Saxe said she truck him on the head with a slipper.

Christmas Parties Gay Affairs of Wednesday

Several Clubs Enjoy Annual Holiday Luncheons

Christmas parties of various clubs and organizations have an important part in the calendar the week preceding the holidays. These parties, always gay affairs, were predominant among the social functions in the city Wednesday.

Members of the Walnut Needle club enjoyed its annual Christmas luncheon at the Wardell party home Wednesday.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock at an attractively appointed table to Mrs. Charles Barnhart, Mrs. Oscar Heffner, Mrs. K. D. Groce, Mrs. Gail Hanover, Mrs. Orren Updyke, Mrs. Cecil Noecker, Mrs. W. C. Nothstine, and Mrs. Turley Glick.

Exchange of gifts followed the pleasure of the luncheon hour. The club will meet in January with Mrs. Nothstine, Walnut-twp.

Mrs. James Butts, Jackson-twp, was hostess at a lovely Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at her home, guests being members of her three table bridge club.

A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock at prettily appointed tables where a red and green color scheme was carried out.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Orle Rader, Miss Adella Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer, Mrs. Austin Rader, Mrs. Franklin Price, Mrs. Marvin Rhoades, Mrs. Wayne Hoover, Mrs. George Shook, Mrs. Ross Hamilton, Mrs. Glenn Hamilton, Mrs. Clarence Myers, and Mrs. Butts.

The group enjoyed the exchange of gifts following the luncheon hour and a pleasant afternoon was spent in bridge with high score favors going to Mrs. Rhoades and Mrs. Orle Rader.

Miss Adella Hoffman, E. Mound-st, invited the club to meet at her home in two weeks.

The home of Mrs. Charles Imler, E. Main-st, was the scene of the annual Christmas party of the Art sewing club Wednesday.

Christmas decorations were used in the dining room and red candles lighted the table for the luncheon served at 1 o'clock. Covers were laid for twelve.

Cards and sewing were enjoyed during the afternoon hours and gifts were exchanged among the members. Miss Zelma Hoffman and Mrs. Willis Liston were additional guests in the afternoon.

Club member enjoying the affair were Mrs. W. E. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Earl Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Shride, Mrs. Charles Stofor, Mrs. George Marion, Mrs. Wade Cook, Miss Laura Mantle, Mrs. Roy Groce, Mrs. Fred Newhouse, Mrs. Harry Dreisbach, Mrs. Chester Valentine, and Mrs. Imler.

The club was invited to the home of Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Elm-ave, for its January meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, N. Court-st, arranged a delightful Christmas party for members of the sophomore class of Jackson-twp high school Wednesday evening at their home.

Mr. Terhune is sponsor of the class. Supper was served at 7:30 o'clock covers being laid for fifteen guests.

Games were the entertainment of the merry evening and a grab bag was enjoyed by the group. Included in the lovely party were Carrie Little, Margaret Keller, Garnet Speakman, Bonnie Ballou, Betty Riggan, Helen Waltes, Mary Winks, Mildred Hoover, Helen Kern, Paul Thompson, Robert Alexander, Roger Wolf, Scott Cardiff, Shirley Hulise, and James Seimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Link Mader, N. Court-st, were hosts at a charming dinner-bridge Wednesday evening when they entertained the members of their club and a few additional guests at the Pickaway Country club.

The club porch was attractive in holiday attire and dinner was served at 7 o'clock at prettily decorated tables. Covers were laid for thirty-two.

Auction bridge was enjoyed after the dinner hour and favors for high scores were awarded Mrs. B. T. Hedges and R. R. Bales.

RED CROSS IN ACTION

LONDON. Several Red Cross first aid stations are to be established in Madison-co in the near future, according to E. A. Sheets, county chairman. This section was selected for stations because of the great number of auto accidents on the new work of federal and state highways, he said.

Stations are to be set up at the intersection of Routes 40 and 42 at the Paul Fettrow Grill, one mile east of Lafayette, and the intersection of Routes 40 and 56 in Sumnerford, four miles north of London.

Other stations are being considering for the Three C's highway at Mt. Sterling, West Jefferson, Plain City and the intersection of Routes 42 and 29, seven miles north of London near Gillivan.

CITY TREASURY TO SHOW $2,659 BALANCE END OF YEAR

GORDON QUOTES
FUND BALANCES; MORE COMING IN

Item of $1,624.11 for Burials and Medical Expenses Remains Before 'Dads'

Circleville will not enter the new year with a deficit on the books, the situation faced by many Ohio cities.

In the financial statement read before councilmen by Ben Gordon, the city will have a balance on Jan. 1 of $2,659.25 and during the first month of the year will receive about $2,300 from the October classified tax.

The estimated receipts for December will total about $761.96, the statement shows, and the balance in the general fund as of Dec. 18 is $6,670.54. The estimated expenditures for the balance of December will total about $4,773.25. These expenditures include salaries $1,529.53; boiler for the Memorial hall, $1,908.19; gas bill, $28.64; small bills of the various departments, $200; Court-st. project, $400; relief bills, $500.89, and engineer, $200.

The legislation for the next meeting will include the relief bills, councilmen decided, but they delayed the payment of a $1,624.11 bill for burials and medical expenses. They plan to meet this bill as soon as funds permit.

The balance in other funds Dec. 18 follows: library, $1,163.46; auto, street repair, $1,061.83; gas tax, $371.22, and hospital, $1,185.79.

SMALL CROWD PRAISES
HIGH SCHOOL'S PLAY

All who saw "The Tinker," high school Christmas play directed by Roy Bowen, Wednesday, were highly pleased with the performance of the youthful thespians.

The crowd, because of so many competing activities, was small but it loudly applauded the play.

Hilare Haacker in the title role was very good as were students in the other lead parts, including George Rader, Faye Elliott, and Jack Brown.

Rittenour, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pyle and daughter, Sylvia Ann of Wilmington, and Mary Elizabeth Snyder were the guests of the club. The Pyle family were the week-end guests at the Snyder home.

Mrs. Henry Jones was called to Lancaster municipal hospital to attend a patient on Saturday evening. She was accompanied to Lancaster by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hettinger.

Electricity was installed in the L. A. Pyle property on N. Main-st this week. Kenneth Meadows did the installing.

We omitted in our report of the O. E. S. installation that the retiring matron, Mrs. Louise Morris, gave Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, the retiring secretary, a beautiful gift and Mrs. Morris was the recipient of beautiful twin lamps from her corps of officers.

Among those shopping in Chillicothe on Monday were Mrs. S. C. Lightner, Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shannon, Mrs. A. Dane Ellis, Miss Mildred Holderman, Mrs. J. P. YOUTH, 23, FOUND TAPED, GAGGED
IN DITCH, IS REPORTED SERIOUS;
FEDERAL MEN HUNT BRUTAL GANG

rushing here from both Philadelphia and New York.

The victim vanished from the New York apartment which he shares with a younger brother, Frederic Milne, after receiving a telephone call early Saturday from a "Dr. Green of Gracie Square." "Dr. Green" told the youth his grandfather was ill in Philadelphia and that he was to accompany him there.

Milne left the apartment after leaving a note for Frederic telling about the phone call.

The following day Frederic Milne received a letter, postmarked "Poughkeepsie, N. Y.," advising him his brother was being held for $50,000 ransom.

A subsequent ransom demand was reported made direct to the victim's grandfather in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19—(INS)—The home of Caleb Milne, Jr., grandfather of Caleb Milne, 4th., kidnap victim, who was found bound and gagged near Doylestown last night, resembled an armed camp today.

G-men and Philadelphia police swarmed all over the Milne home in Germantown and refused to allow anyone but members of the family to approach.

Federal men answered all phone calls to the house.

There were persistent reports here that young Milne had been released by his abductors as a result of the payment of $25,000 ransom, but this could not be confirmed.

The news of the finding of the victim came after a night of feverish activity here.

Warren Milne, an uncle, is said to have attempted to keep a rendezvous with the kidnapers.

He was reported to have driven to the Bow Creek section in the southwest part of the city, carrying $25,000 with him, but whether contact was made with the kidnapers there is not known.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19—(INS)—Given a free hand by the victim's release, the federal bureau of investigation today opened an intensive drive to apprehend the kidnapers of Caleb J. Milne, 4th., socially prominent scion of one of Philadelphia's oldest families.

R. George Harvey, chief of the federal agent's Philadelphia department, began cracking the whip less than an hour after the 22-year-old youth was tossed bound, gagged and semi-conscious from an automobile near Doylestown, 12 miles north of here.

Given reinforcements by the arrival from New York, Washington and Chicago of eight of the department's crack "snatch men," Harvey ordered every G-man in Philadelphia—there are 38 of them—on duty.

Except to admit they are now positive Milne was kidnaped and they have a "lead," the G-men adamantly refused to divulge any information as they worked with feverish activity throughout the night, speeding about the city and burning up the road between here and Doylestown in high-powered cars with sirens wide open.

Reports that Milne's relatives, members of the family of wealthy Caleb J. Milne, Jr., retired textile magnate, had paid $25,000 ransom could not be confirmed.

TIGERS HOPEFUL OF TAKING GAME AT CHILLICOTHE

Confidence Prevails Despite Loss of Jenkins; Strausbaugh "Devil" Captain

Crippled by absence of John Jenkins but confident they will make a good showing, the Red and Black cagers—unbeaten in four encounters played so far this year—travel to Chillicothe tomorrow evening to take on a high class Red Devil team.

Jenkins is ill at his home and will not play against the Ross councilians. Who will take his place is not certain.

Chillicothe, as usual, expects a victory. Coach Earl Young always has a smart cage team but it may be to the advantage of the locals that the Red Devils are playing their first game of the season. Despite this fact, they have had a lot of time for practice and some of the scrimmages have been game-like.

Strausbaugh Captain

Jim Strausbaugh, great football player, has been elected captain of the Young-men. It is behind this boy that Chillicothe ran up a splendid season's football record. Strausbaugh, so far as scribes have been able to ascertain, is the high point man in Ohio. He plays a guard in basketball and is a tough one.

Big Jacques Cox at center will provide a problem, but local fans believe Coach Landrum's defense will hold the big fellow. The question of the tip-off is something else out Dick Nelson will probably get his share of the tosses; if he doesn't his teammates will.

In every game played this year, while the Red and Black regulars were in the game, the opposing team has been afforded very few sucker shots.

Mackey is Official

Fritz Mackey, freshman coach at Ohio State university, will referee the game which will be preceded by a preliminary between the reserve teams of the two schools.

Chillicothe resembles the local quintet a lot in that every member of the first squad is a senior, except Cox. Henry is the only junior on Landrum's varsity.

The varsity game begins at 8:15 p. m.

Probably lineups:

Circleville	Chillicothe
Andrews	Higley
Stevens	Jones
Melson	Cox
Friley	G
Henry	Strausbaugh
	Trainer

About THIS and THAT In Many Sports

Mackey Reger's Pal

Fritz Mackey, who referees the high school-Chillicothe game Friday evening, is one of Principal Elmer Reger's closest friends—Mackey was on the coaching staff at Ohio Wesleyan when Reger was there—The local school man played three years of baseball under Mackey as a catcher and his three years of football were benefitted by Mackey's tutelage * * *

Bearded Men to Draw

The Athletic club cage team should be supported by a large crowd in its initial contest of the season Christmas night when the House of David crew comes here—The CAC team promises to have considerable strength and its members have been drilling for the opener—Any team that carries a bunch of bearded men is bound to attract a crowd, but one that owns a man standing 8 feet 1 inch into the ozone ought to burst the sides out of any building in which it plays—There will undoubtedly be a good crowd at the game * * *

FAST EASTERN "11" GOES WEST

Two Ohio Men, Capt. Jones and Dick Heekin, on Mighty Squad

CHICAGO, Dec. 19—A strong eastern team, which included many all-American stars, left last night for the west coast to meet the western all-stars in a New Year's game in San Francisco for the Shrine benefit fund for crippled children.

Heading the 22 gridders from 14 universities were Coach Dick Hanley, formerly of Northwestern, and Andy Kerr of Colgate.

Jackson Girl Hurt

Louise Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fischer, Jackson-twp, and a niece of Frank Fischer, local school superintendent, suffered a broken bone in her right leg this week while practicing basketball—Dr. Shane set the injury * * *

Cage Contest Hot

The race for honors, and The Herald cups, in the county league is becoming hotter—Ashville, Muhlenberg and New Holland boys are leading in their contest, with neither tasting defeat—It'll be a battle royal when the Kauber—or Saunders-men get together—Muhlenberg has a pretty good team, too, but is not expected to have enough man power to combat either of the others—In the girls contest New Holland and Darby-twp are showing the way with Ashville doing not so well—A new coach is in the harness at Ashville but it isn't her fault the team isn't winning; all girls on the quintet are inexperienced, the Rooses, Nance, Graham, Canter and others graduating last year***

WES FESLER AFTER JOB AS LAFAYETTE MENTOR

EASTON, Pa., Dec. 19—Wesley Fesler, former Ohio State football, basketball, and baseball star, is being considered for the head coaching job at Lafayette college. He is now an assistant in football and head cage coach at Harvard. Two Lafayette grads, Charley Berry and Charles Soleau, are also being considered.

RYAN SOLD TO MILLERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 19—One of the most colorful ball players of the National league has been sold to Minneapolis to replace Leo Norris, going up to Brooklyn, at shortstop. He is John C. "Blondy" Ryan, whose message: "They can't beat us" helped boost the Giants into a pennant a couple of years ago. Ryan starred in the old loop, but was traded to Philadelphia, finally was released and signed by the Yankees when Frank Crosetti was injured.

WITTENBERG ON TOP

COLUMBUS, Dec. 19—Wittenberg college, led by Jerry Donahue, who caged 16 points, defeated Bob Shea's Franklin U. team 42-22 at the Y.M.C.A. court last night. The score at the half was 19-11.

FINDLAY IS WINNER

FINDLAY, Dec. 19—Findlay college defeated Ohio Northern last night 51-32 in a free-scoring cage game played here.

Rose Bowl Edge Given Methodists

Comparative Figures Provide
20 Point Margin for Texas
Gridiron Team

Walter Johns, national football statistician for Central Press, offers convincing figures in behalf of Southern Methodist university. Devising into a pile of numerals, the gridiron Archimedes emerges with the conclusion that the Mustangs are 20 points better than Stanford, and should win the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day by some such margin.

Here is Exhibit A: Southern Methodist beat U. C. L. A. 21 to 0. Stanford lost to U. C. L. A. 7 to 6. That makes Southern Methodist 22 points better than Stanford, doesn't it? Certainly, but the professor doesn't stop there. To continue: Texas Christian is four points better than Santa Clara (10 to 6). Stanford is only three points better than Santa Clara (9 to 6). Therefore, according to Exhibit B, Texas Christian is one point better than Stanford, but Southern Methodist is six points better than T. C. U. (20-14). Which gives the Mustangs a seven-point margin over the Indians.

BY WAY OF ST. LOUIS

As long as we have started to play ball with the professor, let's go on. Here is Exhibit C: Southern Methodist is 29 points better than Washington university (St. Louis) having won 35 to 6. Illinois is 22 points better than Washington U. (28 to 6). Ergo Southern Methodist is seven points better than Illinois. Illinois is 19 points better than Southern California (19 to 0) so S. M. U. must be 26 points better than Southern California. But Stanford was only three points better than Southern California (3 to 0). Thus, we reach the crushing conclusion that S. M. U. is 23 points better than Stanford.

For those doubting Thomases who never can be told, the professor has some more data. Exhibit D begins at Tulsa. Thus: Tulsa is just as good as Kansas State (13 to 13). But Southern Methodist is 14 points better than Tulsa (14 to 0). That makes S. M. U. 14 points better than Kansas State, too. Now, Kansas State is as good as Nebraska (0 to 0). So S. M. U. is 14 points better than Nebraska. Nebraska is six points better than Oregon State (26 to 20), which automatically makes S. M. U. 20 points better than the Oregonians. Oregon State is six points better than Southern California (13 to 7). So Southern Methodist is 26 points better than Southern California. Stanford is only three points better than Southern California. But Southern Methodist, being 26 points better than Southern California, ac-

According to Exhibit D, must be 23 points better than Stanford.

FROM PITT TO PACIFIC

Don't go yet, folks. There is one more exhibit. Exhibit E begins at Pittsburgh which is the equal of Carnegie Tech (0 to 0). Temple is 13 points better than Tech (13 to 0), so Temple must be 13 points better than Pitt, too. Now Pitt is no better than Fordham (0 to 0) and Fordham is no better than St. Mary's (7 to 7). Doesn't that make Temple 13 points better than St. Mary's?

Temple is 14 points better than Texas A. & M. (14 to 0), but Southern Methodist is 24 points better than Texas A. & M. (24 to 0), which makes S. M. U. 10 points better than Temple and 23 points better than St. Mary's. St. Mary's is 13 points better than San Francisco (13 to 0), which makes Southern Methodist 36 points better than San Francisco. Stanford being only 10 points better than San Francisco, must be rated 26 points inferior to Southern Methodist.

There remains one last step. Add the points of each exhibit expressing S. M. U. superiority and you get 26 plus 23 plus 23 plus seven plus 22. That gives you 101. Divide by five and the answer is 20 points average.

Can you tie that?

GREYHOUND LEADS TROT REVIVAL

Undeclared Gelding
Stars in Turf's
Biggest Year

CLEVELAND, Dec. 19—With unbeaten Greyhound acclaimed all-around harness champion of 1935; meetings on the Grand Circuit exceeding in number and quality any held in previous years, and an unusually bright outlook for 1936, the trotting horse sport looks back on a highly successful season with only slightly less enthusiasm than it looks ahead into 1936.

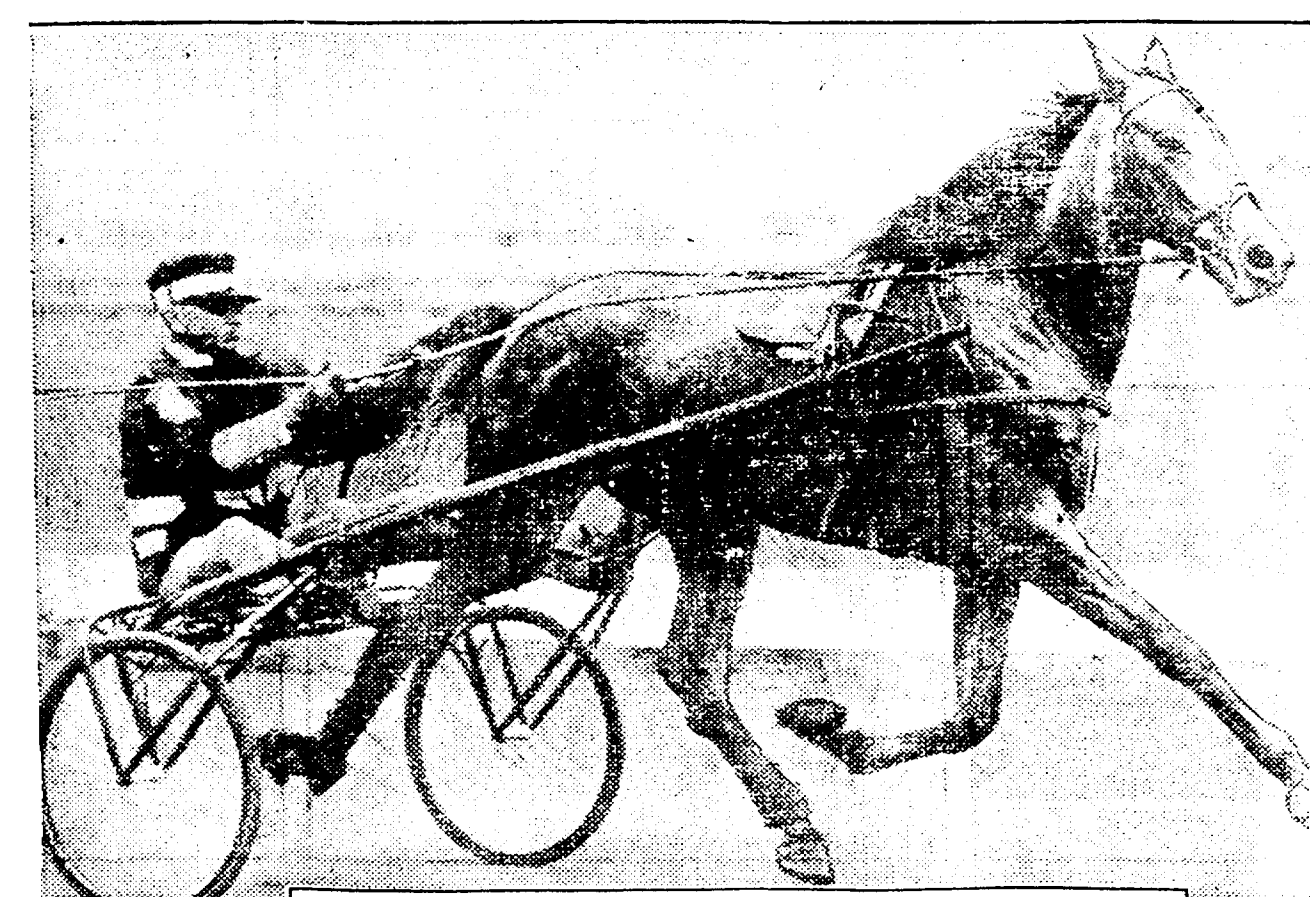

Figures for 1936 indicate that optimism evidenced by harness horsemen everywhere is not overconfidence. Only eight Grand Circuit meetings were held in 1933. Nine were held in 1934. The past season saw 10. The value of the Hambletonian Stake, raced annually at Goshen, N. Y., as the Kentucky Derby of the harness turf, jumped nearly $10,000 in 1935 over 1934. And every one of the meetings on the big time trotting loop climbed out of the red.

More Tracks Interested

Launching its 1935 season at Lexington, Ky., for the first spring card ever held in the Blue Grass, the Grand Circuit swept on through Toledo; Cleveland; Toronto, Ontario; Salem, N. H. (Rockingham Park); Goshen; Springfield, Ill.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Indianapolis, Ind., and back to Lexington for the tenth and final meeting.

With the annual meeting of Grand Circuit stewards scheduled in mid-January, every indication points to all of the 1935 points participating in the 1936 top-flight circuit, plus prominent tracks in the Far West, such as those located at Pomona, near Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego and Phoenix.

Greyhound, gray gelding owned by E. J. Baker, St. Charles, Ill., and trained and driven by Sep Palin, stands out as the world-beater of 1935. He won eight races, lost none and earned $26,712.52. His record of 2:00, a new world's record for a three-year-old trotting gelding, was made at Springfield Ill., Aug. 20.

Rosalind Favored

Rosalind, strong winter book favorite for the 1936 Hambletonian Stake, is owned by Gibson White, Lexington, and is trained and driven by Gibson's father, Ben F. White. This bay filly earned $10,086.77 for her youthful master, to be acclaimed top money winning juvenile of 1935. She also earned a mark of 2:03 in her victory in the junior division of the Kentucky Futurity, at Lexington, Sept. 23. The title of champion aged trotter for 1935 has two equally rightful claimants in Calumet Evelyn, owned by McConville Brothers, Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Tara, the property of Paul Bowser, Boston wrestling impresario. Both of these mares are four years old and both got the same mark of 2:00 for the mile.

Calumet Evelyn, however, was not apparently satisfied with her trotting record. As a result, she stepped out to win half of the honors for the champion aged pacer of 1935. By establishing a mark of 1:59.4, Calumet Evelyn earned extra laurels and equaled the mark of Laurel Hanover, owned by Sullivan and Mawhinney, Machias, Me.

Pacers Share Honors

Jack Orr, also owned by Gibson White, won in 1935 the honor of leading money winning pacer of any age. He captured $6,643.79 as a juvenile during the past season, and established his mark at 2:04.1, which equals the world's record for a two-year-old pacing gelding. Sharing this mark of 2:04.1, and therefore the title of champion two-year-old pacer of 1935, is Eria, owned by R. J. "Dick" Reynolds, Winston-Salem, N. C., who stepped a mile in the same time that Jack Orr made. Eria's performance is a new world's record for two-year-old pacing fillies.

Tryax, owned by Radison Farms, Chicago, won the title of champion three-year-old pacer of 1935, by stepping a mile off in 2:02.1.

With all of these champions entered in the 1936 battle lists, and under the same ownership, there should be no lack of battle ready to determine the world champs of another season.

CONTRACT BRIDGE By E. A. SHEPARD, Famous Bridge Teacher

WHAT REMINDS ME
A FEW NIGHTS ago I saw a high contract defeated, merely because the declarer neglected to state just what he intended playing the few last cards, thereby being unable to take a finesse necessary for his purpose. That reminds me of a similar play by R. F. Sentner, one of the finest partners living, also equally forgetful. What New York lost, feeling W. Va. gained, when he transferred his play from the Knickerbocker Whist club, to the Fort Henry club.

Sentner sat South, and played the hand at 7-Hearts, doubled by West, the latter had only to lead off his Ace of diamonds to defeat the contract. A trick. Thinking that the contract might be defeated worse by not at once leading his Ace, West's opening lead was the Q of hearts, which appeared unable to do any harm. What can South win against the best subsequent defense?

Declarer won the opening lead with his K, then said: "Trumps fall. I discarded my diamond on the Ace of clubs, and the rest of my cards are good." Failure to mention a spade finesse barred him from taking one, and he had to play out the hand. I watched Dick with great interest, to see what his mistake might cost.

Seven of the nine trump tricks were taken. A spade was led and won with dummy's K. On a lead of the Ace of clubs declarer let go his lone diamond. Had West led his Ace of diamonds declarer would have discarded his third spade on dummy's K of diamonds, just giving declarer a single trick short of contract. South led a diamond and ruffed himself into his own hand. The 3 cards held by each player were as shown below.

Declarer led his last trump, and West was squeezed. If he let go his Ace of diamonds, dummy's Ace of spades and K of diamonds must win the two last tricks. In case West had to hang on to his Ace of diamonds, dummy's diamond would be discarded and its two spades would win the last two tricks. There was no escape for the doubler. Declarer played the hand beautifully. It is not often that an Ace can be shut out, but West should not have risked not at once taking it.

BUSINESS CENSUS TO START IN DISTRICT JANUARY

27 ENUMERATORS TO BE SELECTED FOR 5 COUNTIES

R. M. Clifford, Supervisor, Outlines Details for Nation-Wide Activity

Raymond M. Clifford, who has been named local supervisor of the census of business, today announced that enumeration work will start in District 11 on January 2.

Twenty-seven enumerators will be named within the next few days to make the canvass in this district, which includes five counties, Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, Hocking and Perry.

Offices of the census are to be established at the post office, Chillicothe, and a staff of three persons will be employed to handle the work.

All census employees are bound by a strict census oath not to reveal any information contained on business reports and the law makes any violation a criminal offense.

To Canvass All

Mr. Clifford said that every retail and wholesale business, all hotels, places of amusement, business service companies, insurance agencies, real estate offices, and trucking and bus companies, all banks, office building managers and contractors will be canvassed for reports on their operations during the calendar year 1935. The results are to be tabulated in Philadelphia, headquarters of the business census, and become the basic statistics which businesses use in planning their operating policies.

All enumerators will be instructed thoroughly on all phases of the census, Mr. Clifford said, prior to the beginning of the canvass. Sam Briggs, who has been selected as assistant supervisor, will help conduct the training courses.

Supervisor Clifford explained this census has been extended considerably beyond the limitations of the census of distribution for 1929, and the census of American business for 1933, as a result of business requests that all phases of business be included.

"It is designed," he said, "to

They're Worrying Both Parties

THREAT of R. E. Clements (l.) and F. E. Townsend (r.), co-founders of "Old Age Revolving Pensions" movement, to place a complete ticket from presidential nominee down, on 1936 ballots, has both major parties worried, it is declared in Washington. The pair are seen in their Washington headquarters. Clements is actual manager of the organization.

supply a definite answer to the question of how many concerns there are in business, the total volume of annual business, and the total payrolls and employment. More than 100 representatives, delegated by various business associations in each field to be covered, met with census officials and formulated the questions to be asked.

Retail trade will be divided into two size classifications — stores with total sales of $50,000 and over, and those with sales of less than $50,000. Commodity data will be sought from the larger group and from all wholesale establishments including exporters, importers and limited function wholesalers.

For the first time, Mr. Clifford announced, the census includes banking and finance for the entire range of commercial, agricultural and mortgage and personal credit finance as well as security brokers and dealers.

Construction, including building, highway and heavy construction

by contractors is included again, as in 1929. General contractors, operative builders and sub-contractors are to be covered.

Transportation included Highway and street transportation, including trucking for hire and bus operations are included in the census for the first time. Commercial warehousing is included in the comprehensive plans announced today.

A census of the business of operating office, commercial and other non-residential buildings will be made in cities of more than 10,000. For the first time the operations of insurance companies, agents and brokers, real estate brokers and dealers, management and rental agents as well as the business aspects of non-profit associations and organizations of every type, (exclusive of religious bodies) are included in the census.

The census of service establishments, which in 1933 included only personal, business and mechanical repair services, is extended in the plans to include certain classes of professionally trained persons. Mr. Clifford explained these include advertising counselors, architects, auditors, certified public accountants, engineering services, private detective agencies, marker research services, map drawing and cartography services, and sales consultants. Theaters and hotels are to be covered as in 1929 and 1933, he said.

The present census is in answer to the request of business for dependable 1935 information for sounder planning of expansion programs, and is a continuation of the similar business censuses of 1929 and 1933.

If oil embargoes had been declared against Italy a month ago, the Ethiopians would be driving the invaders out of their country today. This, however, seems no longer the goal of the "peace" leaders.

One Dish Combines Virtues Of Meat, Vegetable Course

Welsh Rarebit Macaroni

Molded Tomato Salad

on Shredded Cabbage

Tea

Cottage Pudding With Orange Sauce

Sauce

The rarebit dish combines the virtues of a meat course and cooked vegetables. This orange sauce may be served over many different desserts.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Welsh Rarebit Macaroni—One-half pound macaroni, two tablespoons butter, one-half cup milk, one cup cooked peas. Cook the macaroni, drain, and add the butter, milk and well-drained peas. Part of their liquid may be used in place of the milk. Stir together and place in a buttered baking dish. Pour over the welsh rarebit, made as follows, and bake in a moderate oven till brown on top: One tablespoon butter, one teaspoon flour, one-half cup milk, two cups grated cheese, one-half teaspoon mustard, salt, pepper and cayenne. Melt the butter, add the flour and gradually stir in the milk. Cook till thickened, add the seasonings. An excellent variation is to melt together very slowly one-half pound cheese and one-half cup tomato soup. Add one well-beaten egg and then one-half cup rich milk with one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce with pepper to give a hot taste. This may also be served as a rarebit on crackers.

Orange Sauce—Two cups sugar,

three-fourths cups orange juice, three tablespoons white corn syrup, one teaspoon grated orange rind. Mix the above ingredients and boil for about 10 minutes, or until the syrup is of the desired consistency. Serve warm over cottage pudding or on pudding. Grapejuice may be substituted for the orange juice and grated rind. This sauce is especially good for use on left over sponge cake etc.

Cinnamon Candy Jelly

Mix five and one-half cups of sugar and three cups of water in a large saucepan. Add one-half pound of red cinnamon candies. Bring to a boil and at once add one bottle of fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full boil and boil hard half a minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Nice to serve with meat.

POPEYE IS CAMPUS HERO AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Harvard University freshman have cast an overwhelming vote for President Popeye of Spinachovia.

Barney Google, recently of New York but now of the Ozark Funnies, was runner-up to the spinach eating sailor-man.

Bunched a good distance behind the two leaders, were Flash Gordon, Blondie, Webster's Timid Soul and Dick Tracy.

George S. Viereck Jr., of New York, conducted for the Harvard Crimson a poll of more than 250 freshmen, or more than a quarter of the entire yearling class, finding that four out of five future teachers, doctors, business men, lawyers, scientists, etc., read the funnies regularly.

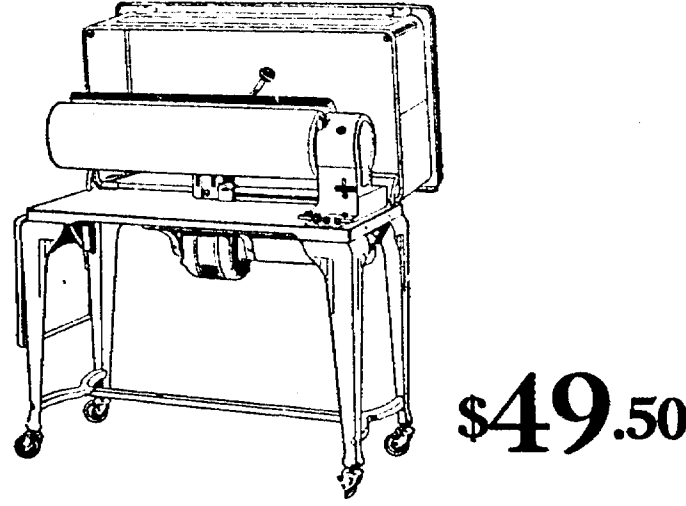

Tarzan received only one vote from the funny-reading freshmen.

Only 32 of the Harvard freshmen considered it "beneath their dignity as students" to enjoy the funnies.

TO STORE PATRONS

FOLK: Circleville merchants appreciate the civic pride you have shown in this pre-holiday period. Day by day and in store after store, The Circuiter has heard: "I can not understand why Mrs. so-and-so wants to go out of town to do her shopping. The bargains I found right here are far above those I have seen in stores of other towns." The "Buy in Circleville" spirit has been greater this Christmas season than in a long while and purchasers of this community are to be congratulated. With only three days remaining until the big holiday of the year, I urge you to give Circleville stores a chance before going elsewhere to make your purchases.

This was one of the finest of the great amount of good work being done by the various city organizations. I know that the children were made happy by the thirty-five members of your club when they served refreshments and arranged for Santa Claus to distribute gifts, candy and toys from under a large decorated and lighted tree. Your faculty advisor, Miss Marian Hitler, shares much of the credit, due you.

ANTLERED BRETHREN: It is not a policy of The Circuiter to single out any one organization for praise, but in this instance your organization deserves much credit. The holiday decorations on your home have brought many favorable comments from travelers in addition to those residents of our fair city. The Elks of Circleville have always been active in promoting civic functions—your contribution to the Legion to help its Christmas tree being one—and your well-decorated building has added much to increase the Christmas spirit.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

Most Democratic senators and representatives, returning to Washington for the reassembling of congress in January, decidedly are puzzled, not to say upset, by hints that the administration may become reconciled to the sales tax, if necessary to continue its AAA program of crop control.
To say that the question of AAA's constitutionality is pending in the federal supreme court is not quite exact, although it is in that fashion that the situation generally is described.
As a matter of fact, the government's right to subsidize agriculture, by making financial allowances to farmers for what they don't produce, is not disputed. Its present method of raising the money to subsidize them is what is attacked as unconstitutional — if the supreme court so holds.
Tax on Trial
In short, it is the processing tax that is on trial.
The theory is that the processor (for example, the miller who grinds wheat into flour) pays this tax.
Maybe he doesn't. Maybe he passes it to the primary producer of raw material. Or maybe he passes it to the consumer.
Or maybe he does both.

its bones rest in peace). There are many things for you to do in our fair city. The firemen and Legion boys are taking care of a lot of your duties but there is still a real task on hand. In a town like ours it is nearly impossible for charitable agencies to find every deserving individual and family. I ask you to wear your extra-strong spectacles so every home in this community, no matter how humble, is benefitted by your benevolence. When you are here, please look into the children's home, into the infirmary, and into every other residence where good cheer will be appreciated.

GENTLEMEN: You have bid farewell to other members of council due to the expiration of your terms. The citizens of Circleville owe you gentlemen a hearty "thank you" for the parts you have played in the machinery of good government. You have worked hard and efficiently for good measures brought before the city dads and worked stronger against those you felt were wrong. I hope your successors are equally as interested in civic development as you have been.
CIRCUITEER

LOCAL MOTORISTS

DEAR FRIENDS: On Saturday and for three days next week the local merchants will have their grand rush of pre-holiday business. Naturally the downtown district will be jammed with autos, especially on Saturday night. Police have asked local autoists to park no longer than necessary in the downtown district and not to park their cars in front of stores for the entire day. This prevents rural residents from having places to park while shopping. The police suggestion is a good one and should be considered by automobile drivers.
CIRCUITEER

TO THE AMERICAN LEGION

LEGIONAIRES: Your steps in organizing the junior association, Sons of the American Legion, are to be praised. These youths will receive splendid training in patriotism, citizenship, discipline, leadership and Legionism. In addition, you have a fine program of activities outlined for the group. The fact that 20 youths attended the first meeting shows the interest they have in the project, and you can feel assured it will be a success.
CIRCUITEER

TO THE C. A. C.

MEMBERS: You have proved that when a group of young men have the spirit to put a thing across—it goes across. The addition of 153 new members in your drive is a fine achievement and means the organization is headed up the road to its former glory. The fair would have been more successful if you had provided some additional entertainment to hold the crowds. If you complete your plans for a minstrel put plenty of pep in it and it will be a greater success than the fair.

MURDER UPSTAIRS
BY ADAM BLISS

READ THIS FIRST: Lieutenant Kirk Larabee is investigating the murder of Andrew Darien, a middle-aged bachelor who was stabbed to death with a carving knife as he slept in the boarding house of Alice Penny. After questioning Alice, her seven remaining boarders, the maid and cook in detail, Larabee learns that Darien was generally disliked and that he possessed a small fortune. Alice is amazed when the detective tells her she will inherit $800,000 through Darien's will. While Larabee and Alice are talking, they surprise the cook, listening at the door. Alice has to explain a list of anecdotes she has compiled about everyone in the house to Larabee. They discuss all of the boarders again, including Lucy, Alice's old friend, who has been seeing a psychiatrist. Dr. Rudeman, Lucy's psychiatrist, surprises Alice with a visit at almost midnight.
(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 23
DR. RUDEMAN lowered his voice until it wasn't more than a whisper. "Did Mrs. Upham come to you yesterday and ask if you couldn't remove this man, Andrew Darien, from the house?"
"She did, Dr. Rudeman," I replied, as bewildered as ever. How did he know that?
He sighed.
"She came to see me yesterday, her regular appointment. Mrs. Penny, and I advised her to talk to you about Mr. Darien. Advised her to see if some way he couldn't be made to leave."
"I don't understand—" And I didn't. Not yet. But it was all too clear in a moment.
"I repeat, this is to confidence, Mrs. Penny. She was normal when she talked with you about asking Darien to leave?"
"Quite. She told me either she'd have to leave or Mr. Darien. Naturally, I told her to ask him to go. Then he was—murdered last night. The light suddenly dawned on me. I held my breath, and stared at him horrified as he nodded slowly.
"Mr. Darien has been on Mrs. Upham's mind for a long time, Mrs. Penny. Those dreams of hers—you know about them?"
"Something. She hasn't said much about them lately."
"When I took her in hand I advised her not to tell anyone about those dreams, Mrs. Penny. I don't like to have my patients discuss their troubles except with me, and when I finally found out why Mrs. Upham dreamed her peculiar dreams, I suggested a cure. I wanted her to get away from this house. She refused, saying that she didn't want to leave you. Then I told her to take you with her, but she said you wouldn't go. I did the next best thing—that was yesterday —I told her to confide in you and ask you to request Mr. Darien to move."
"What had Mr. Darien to do with Lucy, Dr. Rudeman?"
"Everything, Mrs. Penny. She hated him, and in her dream consciousness, she has been constantly killing him. Night after night."
"Ridiculous!" I exclaimed.
"Not so ridiculous as you think. After a good deal of work I've traced the source of her hate—it dates back about three years ago when Darien taunted her about her son. Some unthinking remark, sarcastically made, about a letter she was expecting from her son that hadn't come. Mrs. Upham is abnormal anyway. Things prey on her mind, because she hasn't anything to think about but herself and her son."

"Lucy wouldn't murder anyone, Dr. Rudeman," I stated, firmly.
"You don't know. I've diagnosed her as having decided homicidal tendencies. Early this week I performed a little experiment with her that satisfied my judgment."
"How could an experiment prove she had homicidal tendencies?"
He looked at me for some time, then went to the door and listened. When he came back to his chair, he wanted to get her another bird, but she refused to have one.
"She loves animals," I whispered, lamely, my lips so frozen the hardly moved. My hands were stiff, too, and cold.
"The guinea pig, Mrs. Penny, wasn't an animal yesterday to Mrs. Upham. It represented Andrew Darien, and she hated him. She's been dreaming of killing him for a long time. Don't worry, she doesn't know she killed the animal. She doesn't remember what happened yesterday afternoon. Now, you understand why I'm so concerned about Mrs. Upham. You definitely told her last night that you would ask Mr. Darien to move?"
"I did."
"Did she seem satisfied?"
"Yes." Then I had another fright. I recalled that moment that Lucy had admitted before all of us this morning that she looked out of her door at midnight, and saw the light go out under Mr. Darien's door, across the hall from her room. My hands grew colder and colder. Why was Lucy watching the light under Andrew Darien's door?
The bundle of knives slipped off my lap and Dr. Rudeman picked it up for me. I murmured my thanks, but my mind was busy with Lucy. "I know I've frightened you," he continued, gravely. "I couldn't help it. I'm frightened myself. I want you to look after Mrs. Upham carefully, watch her very closely. Did she seem any different to you today?"
"Well—yes. I thought she'd go all to pieces her nerves and all that, with the tragedy, but she hasn't. She seems excited about it and a little pleased at the excitement, too. I can't explain it. She hasn't reacted as I thought she would."
"She's pleased, of course. That's only natural with Darien out of the way. If she killed him herself."
"She didn't!" No matter what Dr. Rudeman thought, I couldn't believe that Lucy would deliberately steal my carving knife and kill Andrew Darien. Even if she confessed it, I wouldn't believe it. I told the doctor that as emphatically as I could.
"You're an excellent friend to Mrs. Upham," he said. "The best she could have. That's why I knew I could count on you. If she killed him herself, she may not do any more harm, because he was an obstacle in her way."
I reached for my cigar for a moment and knelted the ashes into a tray.
"Having removed him," he went on, "she'll be all right until she encounters another obstacle. In persons like Mrs. Upham, the murder impulse takes a long time to develop. Years, sometimes. However, we can't let her go."
Talking about Lucy as though she were a laboratory specimen! As though she were a guinea pig herself! I suppose all doctors of psychiatry are that way, though Dr. Rudeman was the first I had met, but not the last.
"Don't be going to the police with this?" I asked, starting to tremble.
"Not yet. Not until I've talked with Mrs. Upham's son, at any rate. I'm leaving the city tomorrow on the first plane I can get for New York. I'll wire him tonight that I'm coming. But sooner or later, Mrs. Penny, whether you believe it or not, Mrs. Upham is going to be in an asylum."

Effects of Poison Gases As Told by Army Officer

By LOGAN CLENENING, M. D.
IN TALKING with an officer high up in the councils of the general staff of the American army the other day, I was interested to find how scornful he was of the effect of poison gas in modern warfare. If that is all that Italy is doing in ending upon to win the Ethiopian war, according to this officer, the Ethiopians have a pretty good chance.
There was a great scare last year in European countries about attacks on the civilian population from the air and from gas raids. During the height of the very sensible advice to the civilian population that all you have to do in order to protect yourself from an enemy gas raid is to go into the second story of any building and close the windows. You don't need a gas mask and you don't need a gas mask drill. None of the gases diffuse above the ground higher than the second story of a building, and none of them penetrates through closed windows.
Even for troops, a gas bomb which is laid down in a certain spot is not dangerous, provided they can withdraw a matter of one hundred yards from the place it falls, because the gas will be dissipated and diluted so as to be innocuous before it gets that far.
Powerful Chemical
I remember hearing about an investigation of a form of chemical which was supposed to be so powerful that two drops would wipe out a city of the size of Boston or Philadelphia. The committee was taken into a room where there was a half-gallon jar of this deadly substance. They were told that what we all there was in existence because it was very difficult to manufacture. "How many men had been killed during the manufacture of this small amount of poison?" There had been no fatalities. "Why were they not able to manufacture more of it?" It exploded so readily and so completely that it could not be stored. "If it exploded so often, why had it not killed some mechanics in the process of manufacturing, especially since two drops would wipe out the entire population of Boston or Philadelphia?" No answer.
The officer then demonstrated how deadly this drug was. He took a guinea pig and shaved its abdomen and put two drops of this fluid on the shaved abdomen, wrapped the abdomen of the guinea pig in cotton and bandages and put the guinea pig in a cage. "In 20 minutes," he said, "that guinea pig will be dead." In other words, if an army is going to destroy the civilian population of Berlin with this all-out effort, they would have to do it to take each Berliner, shave his abdomen, put two drops of the fluid there, wrap him up in cotton wool, leave him for twenty minutes. It seems to me, if this is true, there isn't very much to fear from the use of these highly over-advertised modern methods of warfare.
The service men who were called in the late war was that few of them suffered any organic changes in the lungs.

Sing a song of Spring-time,
The world is going round,

Listen to its sound.

And it's O for a pretty girl
To kiss in the glen.
Sing a song of Summer,
The world in nearly still,
The mill-pond has gone to sleep,
And so has the mill.
Shall we go a-sailing,
Or shall we take a ride,
Or dream the afternoon away
Here, side by side?
Sing a song of Autumn,
The world is going back;
They glean in the corn-field,
And stamp on the stack.
Our boy, Charlie,
Tall, strong and light;
He shoots all the day
And dances all the night.
Sing a song of Winter,
The world stops dead;
Under the snowy coverlid
Flowers lie abed.
There's hunting for the young ones
And wine for the old,
And a sexton in the churchyard
Digging in the cold.

RED, BLACK OFF ON COURT TRIP TO CHILlicothe

Game to Start at 8:15; Reger
Announcing Bremen to Be Met Dec. 27

As the Tiger cage team prepared to leave for Chillicothe this evening to take on Earl Young's veteran varsity, Principal E. E. Reger announced that he had scheduled Bremen for a Dec. 27 game. The game will be played on the Bremen court and will prove a real test for the Tigers and should key them for their Ashville game a week later. Only the varsity team will make the trip, the reserves enjoying an off-night.

Bremen has a veteran aggregation and was runner-up in the class district meet last spring. Tonight, Bremen is playing Pleasantville in the Fairfield-co league.

Starts At 8:15

The varsity contest starts at 8:15 tonight with the reserve game earlier. A large crowd is expected to follow Jack Landrum's boys to the Ross-co metropolis where good basketball is enjoyed, win or lose. Coach Landrum is not certain what athletes will be in his starting lineup although it is almost a safe wager it will be Styers, Andrews, Melson, Henry and Friley. If Don Henry is unable to get away from his Christmas work in an uptown store, one guess is as good as another concerning the fifth man. It may be Plum and it may be Jackson, or it may be Fickard. Henry will probably play, though, so that question will be solved.

Jenkins Is Improving
John Jenkins, spearhead of the Tiger offense and one of the best defensive players, will not even be in uniform but Coach Landrum has been informed he will be able to play after Christmas holidays. That, at least, is a bright sign.

Remember, you basketball fans, the roads are slippery, so have a care.

LAGGERS ORGANIZE ANOTHER COURT TEAM

New Holland has organized another of its usually fast basketball teams. It has not been named yet but it will have a backer soon. On the squad are Heifrich, McCune, Bob and John Davis and Tom Kirk, all ex-hi stars in the last few years.

The team played its first game last Sunday and defeated Mt. Sterling, 32-28.

CAPITAL BEATEN, 31-52

MARIETTA, Dec. 20.—Capital university was drubbed, 31-52, when Marietta college opened its cage season last night. The Columbus boys found Whiting and seven other athletes unable to stop, all Marietta men breaking into the scoring. Heischman for Capital had 19 points.

DIZZY WANTS $27,000

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 20.—Predicting that the addition of Leroy Parmelee to the St. Louis Cardinal staff had made the team certain pennant winners, Jerome "Dizzy" Dean declared today that he wants $27,000 to pitch for the Cards next year. He said replacements must be made at second and third bases and behind the plate.

Well, the boys won't be out of the trenches by Christmas. Santa Claus has been detained at Geneva and will be unable to deliver Ethiopia to Roman Benny as a Christmas gift.

About THIS and THAT In Many Sports

EDITOR'S NOTE—Busy as usual, and running across an interesting yarn concerning basketball, the author of this column today is "borrowing" some comments from Matty Bell, head coach of the Chillicothe Scioto (Gazette). Every statement carried herein is from the fluent pen of the aforesaid Mr. Chandler.

Here goes:
Coach Earl Young, who ordinarily tries to out-weep doleful Gil Dobie when it comes to sizing up his team's chances at the start of a season, does not seem to be so pessimistic as he points his Red Devil eagles for their opener with Circleville Friday night.

We've seen the time when Earl would practically break down and weep at the mere mention of his basketballers. Tuesday he sounded positively cheerful as he announced the appointment of Jim Strausbaugh as captain of the quintet.

Can it be that Young, taking a tip from Tom Vernia, his football colleague, is trying out some new psychology this year? Radiating optimism instead of pessimism in the hope that his lads will take down a full-fledged case of confidence.

Or can it be that Young really figures he has the stuff this season and intends to let his boys and the public at large in on the secret?

It may be the latter. It was just a week ago Saturday that Coach "Red" Armstrong of Greenfield, attending a district cage clinic at the Arch street gym, took one look at the Devils and opined aloud: "There's the next champions of the district."

Was Red Spoofing?

There may have been a bit of guile in Red's observation, for Mcclain, as we recall, licked C. H. S. by the tune of 22-20 and 17-10 during the regular schedule last year and nosed Chillicothe out of the Athens tournament, 22-14 in winning the district championship. Anything the coach of the defending champions might say about a prospective opponent

Getting Personal:

Johnny Marcum, pitcher sent along with Jimmy Foxx to Boston by Connie Mack in return for a bundle of pesetas, says Allan Sothoron made him what he is today. . . . Johnny pitched for Louisville when Al was manager of that team. . . . once upon a time Sothoron was one of the best pitchers in the majors, and one of the trickiest. . . . Mr. Marcum, by the way, wears size 14 shoes.

Heinie Manush, traded from Washington to become teammate of Marcum and Foxx, used to call himself "The Black Sheep of the Tigers" . . . that was 10 years ago. . . . Ty Cobb, manager of the Tigers, didn't think Heinie was "serious enough" about baseball. . . . So Ty used an outfield composed of Cobb, Fothergill and Heilmann. . . . the next year, Cobb changed his mind and decided to use Heinie regularly. . . . Manush led the league with a .377 batting average that year.

No More Dives!

Joe Louis says his greatest thrill was shaking hands with President Roosevelt. . . . Headline writers' troubles will be resumed next summer when the French trot out a Davis cup star named Bernard Destremaux. . . . Frank Kurtz, Olympic high diver in 1932, hopes he is all through with diving. . . . he's an airplane pilot now. . . . and recently flew from Los Angeles to Newark in 22 hours without doing a single back-jackknife. . . . One of the big reasons why Casey Stengel is glad he got Pitcher Ed Brandt from the Braves is that Ed always has been able to inflict hitless jitters upon the Giants. . . . Rube Marquard, Giants' great hurler of another day, is a mutuels clerk at the Tropical Park race track at Miami. . . . and Joe Tinker, y'olde shortstop of the Cubs, is a beer salesman in the same neighborhood.

When the time comes for James J. Braddock to train for defense of his title, he's going to have a job of work on his hands. . . . Jim's getting fat. . . . weighs around 215. . . . Eddie Meade, the fat fight manager, says Isidore Gastanaga, who meets Joe Louis sometime in Havana, has a terrific punch. . . . He'll knock anybody's brains out if he can hit 'em" says Eddie, "but he never hits anybody."

TRUNCATED SUITS

A TRUNCATED suit is a solid sequence of cards from which the apex of a solid suit has been cut, leaving K-Q-J (or more), Q-J-10-9 or J-10-9-8, as the case may be. By deducting the value of the apex from the solid suit, we obtain the average value of the truncated suit left. If the A-K-Q is worth 2.34 defensive tricks, then the K-Q-J must be worth one trick less, or 1.34. If the A-K-Q-J is worth 2.12 defensive tricks, the Q-J-10-9 is worth only 0.12 of one defensive trick. Of course these values are only against trump calls, and when a defender. The J-10-9-8 has no probable defensive value against suit makes, but it at least can do no harm to lead defensively. It may have great assisting value for anything held by partner in that suit.

Suppose that a plain suit is held as follows: Leader, J-10-9-7; dummy, K-Q-J; third hand, A-Q-5; declarer, 4-4-3. If the J is led three tricks may be captured, but if the fourth best 7 is led, the 8 will force the Q to be played. Later play may enable declarer or dummy to discard a loser of the suit, so that only two losers will be captured by defenders.

Solid suits offer ideal opening leads. Truncated suits (or sequenced suits, as K-Q-J-X, Q-J-10-X, J-10-9-X) offer excellent opening leads seldom doing harm, and often admirably supporting partner's defense. As stated last week, fourth-best opening leads against trump calls have almost no merit.

Suppose that senior holds the K-Q-X of a side suit against a trump call. If he has diligently read his text-book, by almost any author, it is probable that he highly esteems an opening lead of the K, but suppose we consider the case more fully. The remaining three honors may be distributed in any one of 27 different ways. Having only one partner and two opponents, the chances are that he will encounter a bad adverse distribution. This will be so in six cases to the extent of losing a trick needlessly. In all 27 ways the balance of honors may be held the total loss of leading the K, instead of allowing another player to lead the suit, are seven tricks, or an average loss of 26 per cent for leading the K. The lead of the Q, from Q-J-X, averages to cost 6 1/2 tricks in 27 cases. The Q, from Q-J-10, is fine. The Q, from Q-J-9, costs only half as much as leading from Q-J-X. A fourth-best lead from Q-J-X-X, costs six tricks in 27 cases.

The lower the two sequenced honors heading a suit are, the less damage an opening lead of the top honor probably will cause. Thus the J lead from J-10-X averages a loss of only two tricks in 27 cases.

Every player understands that the declarer leads from one hand towards strength in the other hand. Yet players make opening leads from suits which urge that the lead come up to, as it will if another player leads the suit.
